BULLETIN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council called unanimously today for a cease-fire in the Dominican Republic and asked Secretary - General U. Thant to send a personal representative to the strifetorn country.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — The United States and the Dominican rebels have both charged a cease-fire violation by Dominican air force planes which bombed the rebel radio off the air and strafed near the U.S. Embassy.

A U.S. spokesman said the United States would complain to the Organization of American States.

Rebel spokesman Hector Aristy said formal protests had been lodged with the OAS and the United Nations.

Neither Brig. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barreras, head of the civilian-military junta opposing the rebels, nor Brig. Gen. Elias Wessin y Wessin, commander of the junta's San Isidro Air Base, were available for comment.

A rebel spokesman said at least two P51 Mustangs and four AT6 Texan trainers equipped with bombs made the attacks. The American-made planes were supplied to the Dominican Republic long before the present civil strife.

At least one person, the 5-year-old son of Carlita Jacques, was killed in the air attacks. The boy, Jose Ivan, was playing outside his home near the transmitter of Radio Santo Domingo.

Residents of the 20-block area of downtown Santo Domingo held by the rebels responded with an angry cry against U.S. forces. "The gringos are responsible; let's declare war on the Americans," people shouted.

In Washington, the State Department said the planes "left the San Isidro base on the loyalist Dominican order and without our knowledge." "Loyalist" is the designation U.S. officials apply to the junta forces.

Richard Phillips, State Department press officer, said the attack "could affect the U.S. attitude toward" Imbert. But it was not known if Imbert ordered the attacks or had any knowledge of them.

Wessin was in command when the air force planes attacked rebel-held portions of the capital early in the conflict, causing heavy casualties. There have been persistent reports he and Imbert do not see eye to eye.

One strafing run was near the U.S. lines a few blocks from the U.S. Embassy. It was close enough that U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr. took cover under his desk.

U.S. Marines fired back at one strafing P51. Capt. Charles B. Hennessey of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., a member of the 82nd Airborne Division, said he saw one of the planes disabled and the pilot bail out safely. It was not known whose fire brought down the fighter.

No American personnel were hurt in the attack.

Th total of Americans killed in the Dominican crisis rose to 17 Thursday.

Two U.S. soldiers were killed and a third escaped unhurt from a skirmish deep inside rebel territory. Rebel guns opened up on the Americans and their jeep after they apparently got lost in the city's twisting streets.

A U.S. military spokesman announced that a Marine was slain by rebel sniper fire near the Hotel Embajador Wednesday night.

The rebel defense minister, Col. Ramon Manuel Montes Arache, said American soldiers have been slowly moving south of the east-west corridor into the vicinity of the city power plant.

"Unless the Americans clear out, we're going to attack,"

Senate Action Set On Heart Of Voting Bill

Sen. Erwin Offers Amendment About Qualifications

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate votes today on an amendment that would strike at the heart of the controversial voting-rights bill.

As offered by Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., the amendment provides that nothing in the bill shall be construed to invalidate any voter qualification requirement that applies equally to all citizens.

This would include the ability to read or write a section of a state or the U.S. Constitution in the English language.

The measure as originally presented would ban the use of literacy tests in five Southern states and parts of North Carolina and Virginia. It also provides for the federal government to take over the registration of voters in these parts of the South.

In offering the amendment, Ervin said it is squarely in line with a 1959 Supreme Court decision upholding North Carolina's voter literacy test.

Agreement for a two-hour debate and then a vote on the amendment was reached Thursday in a session which saw backers of the bill squabble among themselves, then fail to reach a compromise.

Sens. Mike Mansfield and Everett M. Dirksen, the Democratic and Republican leaders, tried to win unanimous consent for some changes in the bill but

U.S. Navy Planes From Carrier Raid Targets In South

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government forces pulled out of an area near Bac Lieu, in the southern Mekong River dalta, today after trapping five Viet Cong companies and killing 215 Viet Cong.

To the north, Viet Cong guerrillas jumped two U.S. Marine reconnaissance patrols about 14 miles west of the Da Nang Air Base, killed one Marine and wounded six or seven others, including a helicopter pilot.

A U.S. spokesman said U.S. Navy planes from the carrier Oriskany hit Red targets in South Viet Nam Thursday. No strikes against Communist North Viet Nam were reported.

A U.S. military spokesman said 18 South Vietnamese were killed and 77 wounded in the two-stage battle near Bac Lieu, 135 miles southwest of Saigon. It began at dawn Thurday and raged until late at night. Four Americans were wounded.

Fighting resumed today, and two Vietnamese battalions were pinned down three hours before the Reds were routed by four air strikes with napalm bombs.

"They were a well-trained unit," said a U.S. adviser at the scene.

Maj. Philip Stevens of McLean, Va., said the Viet Cong were caught by surprise.

To Cope 'With U.S. Blackmail, Threats'

Red China Touches Off Its Second Atomic Bomb

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today it had exploded its second atomic bomb — aimed at developing nuclear weapons to cope "with nuclear blackmail and threats of the United States."

Peking Radio made the announcement and added that the nuclear tests also were "for the purpose of abolishing all nuclear weapons."

"China is conducting necessary nuclear tests within the defined limits and is developing the nuclear weapon for the purpose of coping with nuclear blackmail and threats of the United States."

The broadcast said the bomb was exploded over the western areas of mainland China at 10 a.m. (Peking Time) today.

It described Communist China's second nuclear test as a success.

Communist China triggered its first atomic device last Oct. 16.

A communique broadcast by Peking said:

"China exploded another atom bomb over its western areas at 10:00 hours, Peking time, on May 14, 1965, and thus successfully concluded its second nuclear test.

"Following the explosion of China's first atom bomb Oct. 16, 1964, this nuclear test is another important achievement scored by the Chinese people in strengthening their national defense and safeguarding the security of their motherland and world peace.

"Under the leadership of the Communist party of China, the Chinese people's liberation army and China's scientists and technicians have wholeheartedly worked together to ensure the complete success of this nuclear test. It is a great victory for the party's general line of socialist construction. It is a great victory for Mao Tze-tung's thinking.

"The Central Committee of the Communist party of China and the state council extend their warm congratulations to all the commanders and fighters of the people's liberation army who took part in this test, and to all the workers, engineers, technicians, scientists and other personnel who contributed to it, and hope that they will double their efforts and continue to work tirelessly for the further strengthening of our country's defenses."

Impeached In Oklahoma

Justice Ousted On Bribe Count

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Gov. Henry Bellmon began looking today for a replacement for a State Supreme Court justice found guilty of accepting bribery money and ousted from the office he held for 16 years.

"It is apparent," said the governor, "that it is past the time for reform in the method of the selection of our state officials. We will take immediate steps to fill the vacancy." The court is elected by the people.

Bellmon will appoint a justice to serve until the November 1966 general election.

Justice Napoleon Bonaparte Johnson, 74, a Cherokee Indian, listened impassively Thursday as senators, sitting as a court of impeachment, answered the roll call on two bribery accusations. Johnson glanced frequently at tally sheets kept by his attorneys as the voting progressed.

The roll call followed three hours of private conference by the Senate.

"Two-thirds of this court having voted aye, I declare article one to be sustained and you are thereby under the Constitution and the statutes of Oklahoma found guilty and it is the judgment of the court that you be removed from office as justice of the Supreme Court of Oklahoma," presiding Judge Roy Grantham told Johnson. The judge repeated the statement on the second count.

The vote on each count was 32-15, the bare minimum for conviction.

Rep. Lou Allard, who headed the House prosecuting team and a personal friend of Johnson, said quietly, "This is a terrible decision to have to make."

"I hope that it restores confidence in government and particularly in the men in the Senate and House of Representatives," he added. "I do hope it will restore confidence in our Supreme Court."

Johnson, a Democrat whose legal career spans three decades, would have completed his term January 1967. He was accused of taking a $7,500 bribe in a 1957 Selected Investments Corp. tax appeal case and a $2,500 payoff in a 1959 Oklahoma Co. vs. O'Neil oil lease case.

Compromise Due Reserve Merger Plan

Rep. Hebert And McNamara Slate Joint News Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — A zero-hour compromise in the dispute over the Pentagon's Reserve merger plan was signaled today.

The principal antagonists, Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, scheduled a joint news conference for Saturday morning.

The Pentagon announced in a brief statement that McNamara will go to Capitol Hill to join Hebert to face the press together.

There was no tip-off as to the subject of the conference.

However, Hebert's House Armed Services subcommittee has held extended hearings on the Defense Department proposal to merge all Army Reserve units into the National Guard.

When McNamara announced the plan Dec. 12 it set off a storm of controversy within the Reserves and within Congress.

Hebert charged that McNamara was attempting to detour congressional authority in carrying out the plan without legislation.

A month ago, when Hebert recessed the hearings for the Easter holiday, he issued an "open invitation for Mr. McNamara to come before this committee and say 'Yes, we are partners. I need your help."

McNamara has said he is seeking congressional authority for the controversial plan. But the argument has boiled down to the issue of what the secretary considers to be congressional authority.

In his appearance before an appropriation subcommittee last month, McNamara said, "I am leaving up to the Congress to decide how to handle action on the proposal."

Dominican Problem

Explosion Feared If U.S. Forces Left Suddenly

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — U.S. forces occupied Santo Domingo with stunning speed and efficiency. Getting out will be a much bigger problem.

A consensus of informed persons, interviewed during an extended tour of the country outside the armed camp which is the capital, is that the Dominican Republic would explode if American forces left suddenly now.

It may be a long time before all of the 21,000 or so U.S. personnel can leave. They are all in Santo Domingo or at the nearby San Isidro Air Base. But their presence seems enough to discourage any attempt at a full-blown revolution.

Around the country it seems evident that there are sufficient Communist-leaning and Castroist elements to plunge the nation into turmoil should the opportunity present itself. Few doubt that arms are being smuggled regularly into the northern provinces.

One factor which may yet save the Dominican Republic is that, as of now, there is no outstanding leader on the extreme left who is able to capture the imagination and loyalty of the restless young men who are thirsting for radical change.

"Uncle Sam, what now?" a young lawyer asked me in Santiago, the nation's second capital, whose middle class is cowering in dread of what may happen there should the Yankees leave.

The question is on many lips in tormented Santo Domingo. The intervention of American forces, may have prevented a bloodbath. It may even have averted an attempt by elements of the extreme left to seize a constitutionalist revolt.

All this may have been a calculated risk which weighed the probable adverse impact in Latin America and the rest of the world against U.S. interest in averting at any costs another Cuba in the Western Hemisphere.

The question whether such massive intervention was necessary now is academic. It has happened.

Perhaps, one hears, U.S. support for the rebels when they staged their coup April 24 might have averted the leftist infiltration, once arms were passed out among thousands of civilians. Military intervention probably was the only answer in a situation critically important to the U.S. sphere of influence.

Virtually overnight the U.S. military built up a force on this island rivaling that now involved in South Viet Nam. It may have averted a civil war here and another Cuba. Some worry whether it might have started a new Viet Nam. All that is lacking, some say, is a guerrilla movement.

Thus, it is argued, at least some U.S. forces may have to remain in Santo Domingo for a long time, with all that means in impact on the rest of Latin America and the image of Uncle Sam reverting to the days of half a century ago.

The Dominican coup was staged by a dozen or so young army officers against a civilian junta. Its avowed aim was to restore the 1963 Constitution and to bring back Juan Bosch, elected in 1962 and ousted a year later, as the constitutional president.

Lumber Yard Building Hit; Driver Fined

A Morgantown area man escaped injury, but was cited on a reckless driving charge, when his auto swerved out of control on a right-angle turn in Klondyke at 3:34 this morning and crashed into a lumber company's storage building. A parked car also was damaged.

Police said a 1964 model German import driven by Earl H. Dickerson, 29, of Everettville in Monongalia County failed to negotiate the sharp curve at Harvey Ave. and Elizabeth St., struck a parked 1955 model car owned by Ida Sanford, rear 401 Elizabeth St., and then hit an overhead door in a building owned by the Adkins Lumber Co.

Mishap Kills Horse, Hurts Area Driver

A 30-year-old city man was shaken and bruised when his convertible struck a horse and killed it on Boring Ln. early today in one of three area mishaps reported Thursday and today by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon.

William Shawl of Boring Ln. was headed south about 3:30 a. m. when the horse, owned by Robert Keister of Boring Ln., walked out in front of the 1963 convertible, the patrol said.

Two district men escaped injury in a collision on Route 170 just west of Calcutta at 12:45 p. m. yesterday.

A car driven by Ross Allen Carroll, 55, of R. D. 3, headed south, slowed and was struck from behind by a 1962 coach operated by Raymond Rambo, 28, of R. D. 3.

Rambo was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

Ernest Stalnacker, 21, of Campbell was unhurt when his dairy truck overturned along Route 7 about two miles north of Rogers at 10 a. m. yesterday.

Officers said he was headed south when the truck veered off the right side and overturned on its top. Stalnacker said a tire blew out.

County's Planners Slate Meeting On New Survey

A comprehensive survey of Columbiana County and its communities, designed as a basis for future planning, will be unveiled at a countywide meeting June 10 at the Lincoln School at Lisbon.

The County Regional Planning Commission Thursday night completed plans for the public meeting at which the results of a year-long survey, now being printed, will be reported.

Eber Wright, Ashtabula County planning director and consultant to the Columbiana County group, will present a summary of the survey.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president of the commission, said letters have been mailed to 300 organizations in the county inviting them to the meeting and county, township, village and municipal officials and others will be asked to attend.

The survey includes the work of a number of lay committees, county and city officials, specialists and advisers on such aspects as industry, transportation, population, recreation, geography, and social characteristics.

At last night's meeting, committee structure and personnel for further planning work in 1965-66 was discussed.

A. L. Breakiron, superintendent of community relations for the Crucible Steel Co., spoke on the role of Crucible Steel in the Tri-State area, especially in Columbiana County.

Breakiron said the steel firm employs 6,600 from 39 communities in the district, with resi-

County's Planners Slate Meeting On New Survey

A comprehensive survey of Columbiana County and its communities, designed as a basis for future planning, will be unveiled at a countywide meeting June 10 at the Lincoln School at Lisbon.

The County Regional Planning Commission Thursday night completed plans for the public meeting at which the results of a year-long survey, now being printed, will be reported.

Eber Wright, Ashtabula County planning director and consultant to the Columbiana County group, will present a summary of the survey.

Floyd Lower of Lisbon, president of the commission, said letters have been mailed to 300 organizations in the county inviting them to the meeting and county, township, village and municipal officials and others will be asked to attend.

The survey includes the work of a number of lay committees, county and city officials, specialists and advisers on such aspects as industry, transportation, population, recreation, geography, and social characteristics.

At last night's meeting, committee structure and personnel for further planning work in 1965-66 was discussed.

A. L. Breakiron, superintendent of community relations for the Crucible Steel Co., spoke on the role of Crucible Steel in the Tri-State area, especially in Columbiana County.

Breakiron said the steel firm employs 6,600 from 39 communities in the district, with resi-

Compromise Due Reserve Merger Plan

Rep. Hebert And McNamara Slate Joint News Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — A zero-hour compromise in the dispute over the Pentagon's Reserve merger plan was signaled today.

The principal antagonists, Rep. F. Edward Hebert, D-La., and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, scheduled a joint news conference for Saturday morning.

The Pentagon announced in a brief statement that McNamara will go to Capitol Hill to join Hebert to face the press together.

There was no tip-off as to the subject of the conference.

However, Hebert's House Armed Services subcommittee has held extended hearings on the Defense Department proposal to merge all Army Reserve units into the National Guard.

When McNamara announced the plan Dec. 12 it set off a storm of controversy within the Reserves and within Congress.

Hebert charged that McNamara was attempting to detour congressional authority in carrying out the plan without legislation.

A month ago, when Hebert recessed the hearings for the Easter holiday, he issued an "open invitation for Mr. McNamara to come before this committee and say 'Yes, we are partners. I need your help."

McNamara has said he is seeking congressional authority for the controversial plan. But the argument has boiled down to the issue of what the secretary considers to be congressional authority.

In his appearance before an appropriation subcommittee last month, McNamara said, "I am leaving up to the Congress to decide how to handle action on the proposal."

Ohio Senate Awaits Third Bill On Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A third multi-million dollar appropriations bill is expected to reach the bottle neck Ohio Senate next week after passage by House members who are getting anxious to go home.

The House will vote on the Republican administration's $190 million capital improvements measure and send it along to the politically deadlocked Senate where two major money bills already are pending.

They would appropriate $1.4 billion for general operations and $888 million for highways and highway safety in the two-year fiscal period beginning July 1.

Republicans rule the lower chamber 75-62 but the Senate is split 16-16 with 17 votes needed to pass a bill. Senate Democrats lined up to defeat the administration's original highway-highway safety measure which since has been rewritten.

The fourth and final appropriations measure was introduced in the house Thursday as the lawmakers ended their 17th week of work.

It would set aside $507,000 to pay sundry claims against the state, which cannot be sued.

Introduction of the sundry claims bill normally signals the end of a legislative session but Rep. Ralph Fisher, R - Wayne, chairman of the House Finance Committee, said, "I cannot make such a prediction this time."

Fisher apparently referred to Ohio House reapportionment proposals offered as substitutes for the plan defeated by voters in the May 4 primary.

Senators gave their approval Thursday to measures permitting State Supreme Court judges to name the chief justice and creating an Ohio Arts Council to run a continuing survey of Ohio's cultural and artistic resources.

The Senate voted 28-0 for the Supreme Court bill after it was amended to strike provisions that would have extended the terms of Supreme Court judges from six to eight years.

Sen. Fred L. Hoffman, R-Hamilton, sponsored the bill which would allow judges to name the chief justice every two years.

Under present law, the chief justice is elected statewide along with the other six judges. Hoffman said his bill would make it less likely for a chief justice to take office without first having had experience on the high court.

MISS ESTHER HOWARD
She's On Furlough In U.S.

Miss Esther Howard, a missionary and nurse in India, who is on furlough in the United States, will be the guest speaker at the West Point Church of the Nazarene Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and the First Church in East Liverpool at 7 p. m.

The Rev. L. D. Smith is pastor of the West Point church and the Rev. C. G. Schlosser of the First Church.

This marks Miss Howard's second furlough since being assigned to India in 1952 by the Department of World Missions, Church of the Nazarene. She spent her first two years in the field in intensive language study. She was assigned to the Reynolds Memorial Hospital in Basim, Maharashtra, India.

A native of Stockton, Calif., she attended Pasadena (Calif.) College and was graduated from the Samaritan Hospital School of Nursing at Nampa, Idaho, in 1948. She also attended the University of Washington at Seattle. Prior to her assignment overseas, she worked as a nurse in California and Washington for four years. She makes her home in Alameda, Calif., during her furlough.

Should He Seek 5th Two-Year Term?

Vexing Problem Sifted By 80-Year-Old Mayor

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — There's an 80-year-old man in Waltham who's pondering a vexing problem: Should he run for a fifth consecutive two-year term as mayor?

Mayor Austin D. Rhodes, alert and physically fit, retired from retirement in 1958 to become mayor of this city of 55,000. He views the problem of another term from a financial standpoint.

"The city charter," he said, "provides that if a mayor dies in office at any time except within the last six months of his term, a special election must be held.

"Wouldn't that be a terrible thing for me to do — make the city that has given me such honor or pay for a special election?"

During the campaign for his fourth term, Rhodes startled professional politicians by declaring that he didn't want any campaign contributions.

"Some people thought Rhodes must be going soft," he chuckled. "They just couldn't understand why a man should turn down campaign contributions he didn't need."

Rhodes is a Democrat and a conservative. The conservative side of his nature was shown with the building of two branch libraries. The trustees were anticipating what Rhodes calls "elaborate and costly plans."

But the mayor wanted libraries of a more practical nature. He hired an architect who specializes in designing houses, and then got the man's plans approved.

"If a place is good enough to live in, it ought to be good enough to read in," said Rhodes.

Next Tuesday night, admirers of Rhodes will tender him a testimonial dinner at a Framingham night club.

Then he joined the J.L. Thompson Co., of Waltham, a machine tool manufacturer. He began as a machinist and became general superintendent in 1941. Next he was promoted to general manager in 1949 and became vice president in 1953.

After retirement, Rhodes found "there was no point in getting up in the morning because there was nothing you had to do. You couldn't look forward to Sunday because every day was Sunday."

So, as an experienced businessman of 72, Rhodes turned to politics.

Chester Area Youth Hit By Falling Brick

A Chester area youth, struck by a falling brick wall at a razing project along Walnut St. Thursday night, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Craig Allen Thomas, 14 son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thomas of Fairview Rd., suffered multiple abrasions and cuts of the face, neck, upper chest and left knee when the tile brick wall fell on him about 6:15 p.m.

The family said he was assisting in the dismantling of the building and removing lumber when the mishap occurred. He is a ninth-grader at the Chester Junior High School.

Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns is the only National Football League player to score more than 1,000 points. He has made 1,102 points in 14 seasons.

Bid Received For Road Tar

LISBON — The Ohio Tar and Asphalt Co. of Canton was the only bidder to furnish tar for the county highway summer works program when bids were opened Thursday by county commissioners at their regular meeting.

The company bid $165,953.38 for an estimated 858,000 gallons of tar and 1,700 cubic yards of hot mix. The program involves 168 miles of highways and streets.

In other business, the commissioners reported on a letter received from Clifton M. Newhall, deputy director of Division 4 at Ravenna, and S. A. Seymour, planning engineer, on the proposed realignment of State Route 14-A outside of Salem.

A pre-hearing will be held June 3 at the Salem Council chambers for those having questions on the relocation. A public hearing will follow on June 10 at 2 p.m. at West Branch High School gymnasium, south of Beloit.

The commissioners approved the part-time employment of Dr. Wade W. Mowry, psychologist for Mahoning County schools, at $10 per hour and Miss Ernestine Profitt, psychiatric social worker, of Youngstown at $5 per hour, not to succeed eight hours any one week. She also was given travel allowance.

The two will assist in the operation of the Mental Health Clinic at 339 E. Lincoln Way. Donald Roberts, newly - employed administrator for the clinic, was authorized to attend a meeting at Cincinnati May 24-25.

Twelve new chairs was authorized to be purchased for the Columbiana County northwest court at Salem.

No Hearing Date Set For Jail Walk-Away

BEAVER — No date for a hearing has been scheduled for Ronald Miller, who was returned Thursday to the Beaver County Jail where he had walked away Wednesday afternoon while emptying garbage from the jail kitchen. He was a trustee.

The 19-year-old Conway youth will face additional charges of larceny of a motor vehicle and breach of prison regulations in Beaver County. He was arraigned in Bedford on a larceny charge where he allegedly stole $51 from the cash register of a service station while the attendant was filling his car with gasoline.

After walking away from the jail, he allegedly stole the auto of Emeric Scarsella of Industry R. D. 1 and drove to Bedford.

Pay Raise Ordinance Will Be Aired Tonight

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and Councilman Norman Bucher, ordinance committee chairman, are scheduled to confer tonight at 7 on the final draft of legislation scheduled to be presented to Council Monday night, granting a pay raise to most city employes.

Because at least three proposals were discussed for the boost, the solicitor said he does not know what the final form of the ordinance will provide. The first offer from Council called for a 5 per cent hike, Later, the figure was raised to 7 per cent. In a third discussion of the raise the night of May 7, the hike was set tentatively at $42.50 monthly.

Lisbon Man Accused In Mansfield Knifing

A 21-year-old Mansfield Reformatory inmate is in "critical" condition today with a stab wound received in an altercation with a Lisbon area man once given an added sentence for threatening him.

Reformatory Supt. M. J. Koloski said Ronald Saddler, sentenced for burglary from Cuyahoga County, was stabbed as he and Leroy Gail McDonald, 21, of Lisbon R. D. 3 left their cells for lunch Wednesday.

McDonald was given an extra sentence in 1963 for threatening Saddler, Koloski said. The county man was sentenced July 18, 1963 to 1-15 years in the reformatory for burglary at the Parsons Coal Co. in East Liverpool.

Health Areas Merger Plan Studied Again

City and county officials met Thursday night at Hoge's Restaurant to continue discussion of a proposal for merging the East Liverpool and Columbiana County Health Districts, but no conclusion was reached.

Mayor Merrill D. Hall represented the city, along with Councilmen Robert W. Sample, James F. Cunningham, Norman Bucher and Donald Hancock.

The county was represented by the County Health Department and the advisory council of the County Health and Safety Council.

Dr. Merle Singer, county health commissioner, pointed out to the mayor that the County Health Board cannot act on the plan until it receives approval of its advisory council and East Liverpool City Council. The question of sharing costs between the city and the county also would have to be ironed out, Dr. Singer said.

The County Health Board delegation was headed by Atty. Howard Cole of Lisbon, chairman.

Dr. Singer said several plans have been discussed for financing the consolidated district but no action can be taken until there is agreement on a merger.

The death of the U.S. Marine brought to 374 the total of American dead in combat since December 1961.

The Marines were ambushed while setting up listening posts along the Ca De River to get a line on routes used by the Communists to move troops and supplies toward the big U.S.-Vietnamese base at Da Nang.

Sketchy reports indicated two 10-man groups were pinned down atop a hill by Viet Cong fire. The fighting went on for several hours while two other patrols tried to reach the trapped men. Four Marine Phantom jets and five armed helicopters were sent to aid the patrols.

When the firing ceased, the Marines summoned helicopters to carry out their casualties. This touched off heavy Communist groundfire and one copter was hit 16 times. The pilot was grazed on the cheek by a bullet and hit in the legs by shrapnel.

The helicopters evacuated the rest of the unit by the end of the day. A Marine spokesman said it was not learned if the guerrillas suffered any casualties.

U.S. military sources reported that 43 American and Vietnamese planes have been lost since air strikes began three months ago against Communist North Viet Nam. They said the losses included 15 U.S. Air Force planes, 21 from the U.S. Navy and seven from the Vietnamese air force.

The sources said 25 pilots are listed as missing or dead, while 18 have been recovered by rescue helicopters.

A U.S. spokesman said during the week of May 2-8 government forces lost 195 killed, 385 wounded and 120 missing or captured. Four Americans were killed and 22 wounded. Viet Cong losses were put at 365 killed and 90 captured with no estimate of the wounded.

In London, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told the House of Commons Britain is still pressing the Soviet Union to agree on a conference to discuss the neutrality of Cambodia.

A native of Stockton, Calif., she attended Pasadena (Calif.) College and was graduated from the Samaritan Hospital School of Nursing at Nampa, Idaho, in 1948. She also attended the University of Washington at Seattle. Prior to her assignment overseas, she worked as a nurse in California and Washington for four years. She makes her home in Alameda, Calif., during her furlough.

Should He Seek 5th Two-Year Term?

Vexing Problem Sifted By 80-Year-Old Mayor

WALTHAM, Mass. (AP) — There's an 80-year-old man in Waltham who's pondering a vexing problem: Should he run for a fifth consecutive two-year term as mayor?

Mayor Austin D. Rhodes, alert and physically fit, retired from retirement in 1958 to become mayor of this city of 55,000. He views the problem of another term from a financial standpoint.

"The city charter," he said, "provides that if a mayor dies in office at any time except within the last six months of his term, a special election must be held.

"Wouldn't that be a terrible thing for me to do — make the city that has given me such hon- or pay for a special election?"

During the campaign for his fourth term, Rhodes startled professional politicians by declaring that he didn't want any campaign contributions.

"Some people thought Rhodes must be going soft," he chuckled. "They just couldn't understand why a man should turn down campaign contributions he didn't need."

Rhodes is a Democrat and a conservative. The conservative side of his nature was shown with the building of two branch libraries. The trustees were anticipating what Rhodes calls "elaborate and costly plans."

But the mayor wanted libraries of a more practical nature. He hired an architect who specializes in designing houses, and then got the man's plans approved.

"If a place is good enough to live in, it ought to be good enough to read in," said Rhodes.

Next Tuesday night, admirers of Rhodes will tender him a testimonial dinner at a Framingham night club.

Then he joined the J.L. Thomson Co., of Waltham, a machine tool manufacturer. He began as a machinist and became general superintendent in 1941. Next he was promoted to general manager in 1949 and became vice president in 1953.

After retirement, Rhodes found "there was no point in getting up in the morning because there was nothing you had to do. You couldn't look forward to Sunday because every day was Sunday."

So, as an experienced businessman of 72, Rhodes turned to politics.

Chester Area Youth Hit By Falling Brick

A Chester area youth, struck by a falling brick wall at a razing project along Walnut St. Thursday night, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Craig Allen Thomas, 14 son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thomas of Fairview Rd., suffered multiple abrasions and cuts of the face, neck, upper chest and left knee when the tile brick wall fell on him about 6:15 p.m.

The family said he was assisting in the dismantling of the building and removing lumber when the mishap occurred. He is a ninth-grader at the Chester Junior High School.

Lou Groza of the Cleveland Browns is the only National Football League player to score more than 1,000 points. He has made 1,102 points in 14 seasons.

Bid Received For Road Tar

LISBON — The Ohio Tar and Asphalt Co. of Canton was the only bidder to furnish tar for the county highway summer works program when bids were opened Thursday by county commissioners at their regular meeting.

The company bid $165,953.38 for an estimated 858,000 gallons of tar and 1,700 cubic yards of hot mix. The program involves 168 miles of highways and streets.

In other business, the commissioners reported on a letter received from Clifton M. Newhall, deputy director of Division 4 at Ravenna, and S. A. Seymour, planning engineer, on the proposed realignment of State Route 14-A outside of Salem.

A pre-hearing will be held June 3 at the Salem Council chambers for those having questions on the relocation. A public hearing will follow on June 10 at 2 p.m. at West Branch High School gymnasium, south of Beloit.

The commissioners approved the part-time employment of Dr. Wade W. Mowry, psychologist for Mahoning County schools, at $10 per hour and Miss Ernestine Profitt, psychiatric social worker, of Youngstown at $5 per hour, not to succeed eight hours any one week. She also was given travel allowance.

The two will assist in the operation of the Mental Health Clinic at 339 E. Lincoln Way. Donald Roberts, newly - employed administrator for the clinic, was authorized to attend a meeting at Cincinnati May 24-25.

Twelve new chairs was authorized to be purchased for the Columbiana County northwest court at Salem.

No Hearing Date Set For Jail Walk-Away

BEAVER — No date for a hearing has been scheduled for Ronald Miller, who was returned Thursday to the Beaver County Jail where he had walked away Wednesday afternoon while emptying garbage from the jail kitchen. He was a trustee.

The 19-year-old Conway youth will face additional charges of larceny of a motor vehicle and breach of prison regulations in Beaver County. He was arraigned in Bedford on a larceny charge where he allegedly stole $51 from the cash register of a service station while the attendant was filling his car with gasoline.

After walking away from the jail, he allegedly stole the auto of Emeric Scarsella of Industry R. D. 1 and drove to Bedford.

Pay Raise Ordinance Will Be Aired Tonight

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper and Councilman Norman Bucher, ordinance committee chairman, are scheduled to confer tonight at 7 on the final draft of legislation scheduled to be presented to Council Monday night, granting a pay raise to most city employes.

Because at least three proposals were discussed for the boost, the solicitor said he does not know what the final form of the ordinance will provide. The first offer from Council called for a 5 per cent hike, Later, the figure was raised to 7 per cent. In a third discussion of the raise the night of May 7, the hike was set tentatively at $42.50 monthly.

Lisbon Man Accused In Mansfield Knifing

A 21-year-old Mansfield Reformatory inmate is in "critical" condition today with a stab wound received in an altercation with a Lisbon area man once given an added sentence for threatening him.

Reformatory Supt. M. J. Koloski said Ronald Saddler, sentenced for burglary from Cuyahoga County, was stabbed as he and Leroy Gail McDonald, 21, of Lisbon R. D. 3 left their cells for lunch Wednesday.

McDonald was given an extra sentence in 1963 for threatening Saddler, Koloski said. The county man was sentenced July 18, 1963 to 1-15 years in the reformatory for burglary at the Parsons Coal Co. in East Liverpool.

Health Areas Merger Plan Studied Again

City and county officials met Thursday night at Hoge's Restaurant to continue discussion of a proposal for merging the East Liverpool and Columbiana County Health Districts, but no conclusion was reached.

The county was represented by the County Health Department and the advisory council of the County Health and Safety Council.

Dr. Merle Singer, county health commissioner, pointed out to the mayor that the County Health Board cannot act on the plan until it receives approval of its advisory council and East Liverpool City Council. The question of sharing costs between the city and the county also would have to be ironed out, Dr. Singer said.

The County Health Board delegation was headed by Atty. Howard Cole of Lisbon, chairman.

Dr. Singer said several plans have been discussed for financing the consolidated district but no action can be taken until there is agreement on a merger.

wearing camouflaged uniforms," he said.

The death of the U.S. Marine brought to 374 the total of American dead in combat since December 1961.

The Marines were ambushed while setting up listening posts along the Ca De River to get a line on routes used by the Communists to move troops and supplies toward the big U.S.-Vietnamese base at Da Nang.

Sketchy reports indicated two 10-man groups were pinned down atop a hill by Viet Cong fire. The fighting went on for several hours while two other patrols tried to reach the trapped men. Four Marine Phantom jets and five armed helicopters were sent to aid the patrols.

When the firing ceased, the Marines summoned helicopters to carry out their casualties. This touched off heavy Communist groundfire and one copter was hit 16 times. The pilot was grazed on the cheek by a bullet and hit in the legs by shrapnel.

The helicopters evacuated the rest of the unit by the end of the day. A Marine spokesman said it was not learned if the guerrillas suffered any casualties.

U.S. military sources reported that 43 American and Vietnamese planes have been lost since air strikes began three months ago against Communist North Viet Nam. They said the losses included 15 U.S. Air Force planes, 21 from the U.S. Navy and seven from the Vietnamese air force.

The sources said 25 pilots are listed as missing or dead, while 18 have been recovered by rescue helicopters.

A U.S. spokesman said during the week of May 2-8 government forces lost 195 killed, 385 wounded and 120 missing or captured. Four Americans were killed and 22 wounded. Viet Cong losses were put at 365 killed and 90 captured with no estimate of the wounded.

In London, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told the House of Commons Britain is still pressing the Soviet Union to agree on a conference to discuss the neutrality of Cambodia.

Purely Advisory Opinion

Some of our more rugged hands-off private enterprise commentators have been sounding as if the President's Council of Economic Advisers had no right to publish a study of economic conditions in the steel industry.

This report is being used as background for White House insistence on price stability in the steel industry. It was not designed to have direct bearing on the industry's negotiations with the United Steel Workers. It was a purely advisory opinion, but it does indicate that if the union would take less than it has been asking but more than the industry had been offering there could be a non-inflationary settlement.

The Council of Economic Advisers exists to furnish economic advice to the President of the United States. He has every right to ask for it and every reason to need it. If he is expected to take a hand in steel settlements, he should know what the issues are.

And make no mistake about it, the president of the United States is expected to take a hand in steel settlements.

Either he or one of his administrative agents must intervene sooner or later to keep the steel industry from ramming itself into a deadlock. Either management or the union will maneuver itself into a position from which it can be extricated only by federal intervention.

There can be no doubt about the White House need for information on steel and all other basic industries — but principally steel. Hence, the study of the steel industry ordered by President Johnson and now available for him, the steel industry and the public in general.

One puzzling fact about the report and the negative reaction of Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, emerged immediately. The Council of Economic Advisers and Mr. Blough used different statistics for the same information — the steel industry's long-term increase in productivity. The council came out at 3 per cent, Mr. Blough at 2 per cent.

Why isn't it possible for a basic industry and the U.S. government to agree on a statistical basis for information as vital as this?

How Bliss Earns His Money

The documentaries would be patterned after the TV production that was never shown in the 1964 campaign after Sen. Goldwater and Republican Chairman Burch vetoed it as bad campaign material.

They would create an association between the subject material of the documentary and the Democratic party. This is what the documentary never seen last fall was designed to do.

All this might be interesting. It might be shocking. But would it win votes?

Or would it merely please the people whose votes already were committed while offending a far larger number of people whose votes would be needed to win congressional elections? And would potential contributors be alienated?

Ray Bliss, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, believes his job is to help the party win votes, not to win plaudits from people already known to be hostile to the majority party.

Chairman Bliss will earn his money coping with this problem in the Republican party—the conflict between those who think a political party exists solely to extol their beliefs and those who think a political party ceases to exist when it can't poll enought votes to win an election.

The Most Powerful Argument

It cannot be successfully denied that Sunday sale of liquor in Ohio would be a far cry indeed from the principle of the original law in this state.

The principle was to make liquor available under such restrictions that its abuse never again could become widespread. To this end, a state monopoly on bottle sales was created and liquor retailing was surrounded with detailed regulations.

One of the regulations prohibited Sunday sales.

This regulation would be set aside by the Ohio Senate and might be set aside by the House. The most powerful argument in the arsenal of persuasion has been brought to bear—that Sunday sales would be good for convention business in Ohio cities. It goes without saying that more convention business would be good for Ohio.

Sunday sales would be permissible only by special license and, under the Senate bill, would entail consent in local option elections. The question is whether these restrictions would confine Sunday sales so closely that restaurants and hotels would benefit, with no bad side effects.

Sunday sales would have been unthinkable under the original Ohio law. But a third of a century has made so many things thinkable which once were unthinkable that the Senate bill is given a fair chance of passage in the Ohio House of Representatives, solely on the claim of what it would do for the hotel and restaurant business.

They're Professors, Not Pickets

Picketing seems to be the order of the day.

If you don't like something, if you're unhappy, dissatisfied, disgruntled, bewitched bothered or bewildered, just grab a piece of wood, tack a sign on it and let the world know about it!

Or don't bother with a sign at all. Just shout, or sing, or perhaps do nothing but walk. The fact there are more than one of you will indicate you are not just some kind of a nut. You have a mission, you have a demand, or you are just plain against something.

But there is something sadly disappointing about members of university faculties joining in this sort of demonstration.

We had always felt they were a pitch above that kind of compulsion — that they would have a less demonstrative, more orderly way, perhaps individually, of voicing or showing their feelings.

But not so!

Some members of the faculty of Ohio State University joined a group of students Thursday to picket in protest to the board of trustees' rule which authorizes the OSU administration to screen campus speakers before they can get permission to address student groups.

A few weeks ago, several members of the faculty of Kent State University demonstrated on campus with a small group of students preparing to go to Washington to protest U.S. involvement in the war in Viet Nam.

Fortunately, in both cases, only a smattering of faculty members were involved.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

In checking over my acquaintances, I can think of only two who consistently disagree with me yet grant me the right to differ with them and not let our disagreements shatter our friendship.

My laugh of the week was this description of what happens when executive responsibility is placed on frail shoulders: First thing you know, the poor fellow is chain-smoking, then he's hitting the soft-drink machine, then the anti-acid pills, then his pants start to sag in the back and phhttt.

Never one to write a letter to an editor, I did write a correspondence card to Sen. William J. Fulbright after reading his magazine article on policy flexibility. I thanked him for making sense in an interval of mass hysteria.

Only those of us who live in Rosy Fingered Dawn can fathom the deep humor of going shopping for postholes when it's time to build a new fence. Posthole digging, next to hand-sawing firewood, is the most thankless, most bone-wearying, rural toil.

Moon-shooting is like painting a picture. The hardest thing is to stop. And will someone tell us whether it's going to be possible to see what happens when men make the moon journey, perhaps with a TV camera mounted on a follow-up space vehicle?

If you are going to be in the federal medicare program, it behooves you to find out now how your doctor feels about boycotting it. You may need a new practitioner.

As frequently happens, after the Berkeley Campus incidents had stirred up a storm against students, no one paid much attention to a special committee report recommending sweeping changes in University of California administration, including no more administrative interference by State Board of Regents.

By a curious inversion of logic, I have concluded that raising tomatoes would be better than raising flowers, which I had been raising because I was tired of raising tomatoes. But now tomatoes seem to be more interesting than flowers.

Unless someone gets an honorary degree sometime, this is the last year for a commencement flurry at the Twillery. Our student generation has had the works —more works than anyone dared to dream of when the process began.

I like a statement at the end of a summation of President Johnson's foreign policy problems — that he has them not because he created them but because he is the president of the United States. The problems existed long before he became the official resident of the White House.

In Other Words, Scram!

Dubinsky's Still Battling At 72

By Victor Riesel

That peppery bantam, crewcut David Dubinsky, labor leader by profession, gadfly by avocation and global conscience by dedication, is the only union chief ever to be kissed by an American president.

Victor Riesel

It happened not too long ago during a state dinner in the White House. Lyndon Johnson saw the 72-year-old leader of the nation's Ladies' Garment Workers, strode over and bussed him. Such emotion in a president and such rapport are not easy to come by. The incident set a precedent.

But Dubinsky has smashed tradition for generations. He "makes" precedents as the 442,000 members of his big and wealthy union—80 per cent of them women—make ladies' garments, suits, cloaks, dresses and dainty unmentionables.

Of late Dubinsky has chosen to stay off the front pages. But today this labor leaders' labor leader is in Miami Beach directing the union's 32nd national convention through the intricacies of modern industrialism.

HE IS NEWS not only because it was his phone call from New York to Los Angeles in July 1960 which gave the nation's labor leaders the go-ahead signal for support of a Texan as the Democratic vice-presidential candidate by saying "He'll help Kennedy win."

He is news because of the amazing contents of his huge report to the convention delegates. There is, for example, an explanation of the International Ladies' Garment Workers (ILGWU) Investment Dept. It handles or advises on the placing of well over half a billion dollars deposited in an assortment of funds.

Some advice is being taken from David Rockefeller's Chase Manhattan Bank. (Dubinsky never permits politics to interfere with shrewd investments.) Some funds are handled directly by the department.

Some of the special funds have earned $52 million in the past three fiscal years. The central treasuries of the national office and the locals have $75 million invested—which are earning additional millions. The various funds are invested in huge housing projects, regular mortgages, homes for the military and in rural areas for the farmers' use.

THERE ARE intricate financial statements. Every member can have an accounting of every penny.

Dubinsky and his collegaues have become wizards in their industry as well as financial experts. No longer is the ladies' garment industry made up of little shops with a breezy extrovert of a salesman and an ulcerous "inside" production chief—the butt of so many comedian's jokes.

The dress industry is going the way of all business in our society. Firms have merged. They have gone "public"—on the stock exchanges.

Jonathan Logan, Inc., probably the biggest house, has 75 plants in 16 states. It's diversified, making thread and machinery as well as garments.

So big now are some of the "houses," the relationship between them and the needle union approaches that of a steel company and the United Steelworkers. "Impartial chairmen are needed—the University of Pennsylvania's George W. Taylor, for example, in the Jonathan Logan case.

DUBINSKY ALWAYS has had a flair for such chairmen. At one time or another the industry was "bossed" by the late Harry Hopkins and the late late Jimmy Walker.

"Little David," as some call him, has gone after some giants. When Adam Clayton Powell attacked him and his union, charging that it discriminated, Dubinsky took him on and won his battle. Dubinsky personally led the assault.

When some years ago, his staff decided to organize a union of organizers, Dubinsky would not be fazed by charges that as a union leader he was being anti-labor, because he fought such unionization.

Other unions backed down. Even the national AFL-CIO headquarters signed a labor contract with its field staff. But Dubinsky is still fighting in the courts. He says that a union is not a business and cannot be considered an employer of organizers.

There would be no union without in a union he said—and has stuck to his position.

At 72 he's battling as he did at 23 and 43. Thirty years ago he took on the Fascists, Nazis and Communists.

After the war he was a one-man army in the cold war. It was Dubinsky who stirred the AFL into helping the postwar unions fight off the heavily muscled and heavily financed Communists from West Berlin to Rome.

THERE NEVER has been a day when "DD" has not fought totalitarianism. When the left wing became powerful in the theater in the 30s, he bucked them. He produced a musical comedy called Pins and Needles.

When the mobs moved in on labor, he introduced the first anti-racketeering resolution in an AFL convention — and was slugged for it in a hotel lobby by Joe Fay, who was subsequently imprisoned for extortion.

He is partisan. Though he leads the Liberal party of New York, he is high in Democratic party esteem. Especially the President's.

Thus his report to the convention delegates concludes with " . . . In President Lyndon B. Johnson we have an ally in the White House . . ."

Little David is no mean ally himself. At 72 he is the labor movement's Winston Churchill—his best years are ahead of him.

So say his enemies—and even his friends.

Mexico's Image

By David Lawrence

Criticism Of U.S. Policy Seen Unwarranted

Mexico is our next-door neighbor and, despite occasional instances of friction over the years, the peoples of the two countries today have a common interest in the preservation of the American continent against the invasions of imperialism.

David Lawrence

It's surprising, therefore, to note the image of Mexico just portrayed to the people of the United States in a newspaper article in Mexico City by an official of the Mexican foreign office.

The impression given is that Mexico is indifferent to the mischief which Communist imperialism has wrought in the world and is willing to gloss over its acts of aggression and insidious infiltration, including efforts to overthrow governments in many countries of the world, particularly in Latin America.

Tourists from this country have gone to Mexico in recent years and found a cordial welcome, as have businessmen. Mexican officials, moreover, have expressed great friendship for the United States and an appreciation of the financial and economic contributions being made to Latin America through the Alliance for Progress.

THE UNITED STATES at one time, it will be recalled, interposed its force to prevent French imperialism under Maximilian from making Mexico a satellite of a European power. All this makes it difficult to understand why the Mexican government itself permits criticism of the United States such as now is appearing in print.

The Mexican official says that the landing of United States Marines and paratroopers in Santo Domingo has "sunk the efforts of Latin-American nations to get the United States to accept the principle of non-intervention as a guarantee of self-determination."

Hasn't the United States really endeavored to stop the intervention of the Communists in the Dominican Republic, and hasn't President Johnson announced that there is no intention to occupy Santo Domingo or to keep our troops there any longer than is necessary for the OAS to establish a peace-keeping formula?

The Mexican article adds:

"As of now, any of our peoples are exposed to invasion of U.S. Marines and paratroopers if the OAS does not hurry to send its own police at the moment demands or discontent arise which an interested group classifies as Communist."

THIS INFERENCE is disproved by the fact that the United States has urged the Organization of American States to develop a formula which would make it unnecessary for this country or any other country hereafter to intervene unilaterally.

The fact is that the Dominican Republic was exposed to a Communist takeover, and there was not time to wait for the hitherto procrastinating processes of the OAS. If anything, the episode emphasizes the importance of adopting a new formula which can instantly be brought into being by a group of Latin-American countries, acting together, in order to prevent intervention by any foreign power.

Unfortunately, the Communists have made inroads in almost every country in Latin America. Their stooges and agents have infiltrated important places, and they exercise an influence which even some people in the governments themselves are inclined to belittle or ignore.

There would not have been demonstrations in the streets of Mexico City on Tuesday or any burning of an American Flag and of an effigy of Uncle Sam if the Communists had not been able to organize a demonstration of thousands of students, who readily got a permit from the Mexican government.

The Communists are waging a worldwide campaign against the democracies, and their unwitting—if not their best—allies are those who minimize Communist activity and call it merely ideological or the expression of unpalatable opinions.

THE EXAMPLE of Cuba stands as concrete evidence of how, only 90 miles off the shores of this country, Communist imperialism can take over the whole of a Latin-American country. Have the people of that island benefited by the Communist-inspired regime? The tragic deterioration of the economy of Cuba is well known.

Criticism by the official of the Mexican foreign office is bound to encourage those factions inside the United States which do not believe in the Alliance for Progress at all and who think our efforts to help Latin-Amer- with acts of ingratitude.

The true friends of Mexico and the United States, however, are not going to be thwarted by the tactless and mistaken expressions of a Mexican foreign office spokesman. They are going to continue their efforts to convince the Mexican government and the Mexican people that the best course for Mexico to pursue is alongside the United States government in a joint effort against Communism, just as Mexico recognized the threat of Hitler's Nazism and joined the United States by becoming a cobelligerent against Germany in World War 11.

The Gaudy Memorial

By Raymond Moley

To know Sam Rayburn was to love him for his modest simplicity. He stood out in a city where pretense is dominant, where display abounds, and phonies flourish.

His life was austere simplicity itself. A bachelor, he lived in what was by Washington standards a tiny apartment in a small development called the Anchorage, on a side street near Du Pont Circle. Like other friends of his, I had a habit of dropping in unannounced for breakfast or dinner.

His "diggings," as he called this residence, might have housed an impecunious bureaucrat.

In 1934 I visited him at his home in Bonham, Texas. It was a modest place with some land which might have been the home of a lower middle-income farmer. As I remember, his brother and sister kept the place while he was absent in Washington.

When Rayburn was depressed because Roosevelt refused to back him for House majority leader, he told me that if he could be sure of an income of $200 a month, he would quit Congress and return to Bonham.

IT WAS IRONICAL, therefore, that during a routine session of the House in 1955 Rayburn should have initiated the building of the most absurd, expensive, and ill-managed building in the history of the United States capital.

His motion provided simply for an appropriation of $2 million and "such additional sums as may be necessary" for acquisition of a site and immediate construction of a House office building.

From then on, the record was a story of gross ineptitude, of wild extravagance, of grotesque planning, and indescribable lack of foresight. Added to all this, there were great profits to the contractors.

No building, with the possible exceptions of the Tweed Courthouse in New York or the Pennsylvania State Capitol, will have such an unenviable place in history.

It has been subjected to denunciation and ridicule as an architectural monstrosity. Its function as working quarters for House members and their committees and staffs has been violated with reckless abandon. In its years of construction, unforeseen expenditures were piled upon other unforeseen expenditures.

ONE EXAMPLE of that is shown by the fact that in the excavation for the structure, deep water was found under the soil, a forgotten stream once called Tiber Creek. This required nearly a million dollars to shore up.

The struggle to hold down the pressure of underground water required an enormously heavy superstructure. The weight necessary to counter the water pressure was supported by more marble and more granite over still more concrete, resulting in more useless space above.

Purely Advisory Opinion

Some of our more rugged hands-off private enterprise commentators have been sounding as if the President's Council of Economic Advisers had no right to publish a study of economic conditions in the steel industry.

This report is being used as background for White House insistence on price stability in the steel industry. It was not designed to have direct bearing on the industry's negotiations with the United Steel Workers. It was a purely advisory opinion, but it does indicate that if the union would take less than it has been asking but more than the industry had been offering there could be a non-inflationary settlement.

The Council of Economic Advisers exists to furnish economic advice to the President of the United States. He has every right to ask for it and every reason to need it. If he is expected to take a hand in steel settlements, he should know what the issues are.

And make no mistake about it, the president of the United States is expected to take a hand in steel settlements.

Either he or one of his administrative agents must intervene sooner or later to keep the steel industry from ramming itself into a deadlock. Either management or the union will maneuver itself into a position from which it can be extricated only by federal intervention.

There can be no doubt about the White House need for information on steel and all other basic industries — but principally steel. Hence, the study of the steel industry ordered by President Johnson and now available for him, the steel industry and the public in general.

One puzzling fact about the report and the negative reaction of Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, emerged immediately. The Council of Economic Advisers and Mr. Blough used different statistics for the same information — the steel industry's long-term increase in productivity. The council came out at 3 per cent, Mr. Blough at 2 per cent.

Why isn't it possible for a basic industry and the U.S. government to agree on a statistical basis for information as vital as this?

How Bliss Earns His Money

The documentaries would be patterned after the TV production that was never shown in the 1964 campaign after Sen. Goldwater and Republican Chairman Burch vetoed it as bad campaign material.

They would create an association between the subject material of the documentary and the Democratic party. This is what the documentary never seen last fall was designed to do.

All this might be interesting. It might be shocking. But would it win votes?

Or would it merely please the people whose votes already were committed while offending a far larger number of people whose votes would be needed to win congressional elections? And would potential contributors be alienated?

Ray Bliss, new chairman of the Republican National Committee, believes his job is to help the party win votes, not to win plaudits from people already known to be hostile to the majority party.

Chairman Bliss will earn his money coping with this problem in the Republican party—the conflict between those who think a political party exists solely to extol their beliefs and those who think a political party ceases to exist when it can't poll enought votes to win an election.

The Most Powerful Argument

It cannot be successfully denied that Sunday sale of liquor in Ohio would be a far cry indeed from the principle of the original law in this state.

The principle was to make liquor available under such restrictions that its abuse never again could become widespread. To this end, a state monopoly on bottle sales was created and liquor retailing was surrounded with detailed regulations.

One of the regulations prohibited Sunday sales.

This regulation would be set aside by the Ohio Senate and might be set aside by the House. The most powerful argument in the arsenal of persuasion has been brought to bear—that Sunday sales would be good for convention business in Ohio cities. It goes without saying that more convention business would be good for Ohio.

Sunday sales would be permissible only by special license and, under the Senate bill, would entail consent in local option elections. The question is whether these restrictions would confine Sunday sales so closely that restaurants and hotels would benefit, with no bad side effects.

Sunday sales would have been unthinkable under the original Ohio law. But a third of a century has made so many things thinkable which once were unthinkable that the Senate bill is given a fair chance of passage in the Ohio House of Representatives, solely on the claim of what it would do for the hotel and restaurant business.

They're Professors, Not Pickets

Picketing seems to be the order of the day.

If you don't like something, if you're unhappy, dissatisfied, disgruntled, bewitched bothered or bewildered, just grab a piece of wood, tack a sign on it and let the world know about it!

Or don't bother with a sign at all. Just shout, or sing, or perhaps do nothing but walk. The fact there are more than one of you will indicate you are not just some kind of a nut. You have a mission, you have a demand, or you are just plain against something.

But there is something sadly disappointing about members of university faculties joining in this sort of demonstration.

We had always felt they were a pitch above that kind of compulsion — that they would have a less demonstrative, more orderly way, perhaps individually, of voicing or showing their feelings.

But not so!

Some members of the faculty of Ohio State University joined a group of students Thursday to picket in protest to the board of trustees' rule which authorizes the OSU administration to screen campus speakers before they can get permission to address student groups.

A few weeks ago, several members of the faculty of Kent State University demonstrated on campus with a small group of students preparing to go to Washington to protest U.S. involvement in the war in Viet Nam.

Fortunately, in both cases, only a smattering of faculty members were involved.

Purely Personal

In checking over my acquaintances, I can think of only two who consistently disagree with me yet grant me the right to differ with them and not let our disagreements shatter our friendship.

My laugh of the week was this description of what happens when executive responsibility is placed on frail shoulders: First thing you know, the poor fellow is chain-smoking, then he's hitting the soft-drink machine, then the anti-acid pills, then his pants start to sag in the back and phhttt.

Never one to write a letter to an editor, I did write a correspondence card to Sen. William J. Fulbright after reading his magazine article on policy flexibility. I thanked him for making sense in an interval of mass hysteria.

Only those of us who live in Rosy Fingered Dawn can fathom the deep humor of going shopping for postholes when it's time to build a new fence. Posthole digging, next to hand-sawing firewood, is the most thankless, most bone-wearying, rural toil.

Moon-shooting is like painting a picture. The hardest thing is to stop. And will someone tell us whether it's going to be possible to see what happens when men make the moon journey, perhaps with a TV camera mounted on a follow-up space vehicle?

If you are going to be in the federal medicare program, it behooves you to find out now how your doctor feels about boycotting it. You may need a new practitioner.

As frequently happens, after the Berkeley Campus incidents had stirred up a storm against students, no one paid much attention to a special committee report recommending sweeping changes in University of California administration, including no more administrative interference by State Board of Regents.

By a curious inversion of logic, I have concluded that raising tomatoes would be better than raising flowers, which I had been raising because I was tired of raising tomatoes. But now tomatoes seem to be more interesting than flowers.

Unless someone gets an honorary degree sometime, this is the last year for a commencement flurry at the Twillery. Our student generation has had the works —more works than anyone dared to dream of when the process began.

I like a statement at the end of a summation of President Johnson's foreign policy problems — that he has them not because he created them but because he is the president of the United States. The problems existed long before he became the official resident of the White House.

In Other Words, Scram!

Dubinsky's Still Battling At 72

By Victor Riesel

That peppery bantam, crewcut David Dubinsky, labor leader by profession, gadfly by avocation and global conscience by dedication, is the only union chief ever to be kissed by an American president.

Victor Riesel

It happened not too long ago during a state dinner in the White House. Lyndon Johnson saw the 72-year-old leader of the nation's Ladies' Garment Workers, strode over and bussed him. Such emotion in a president and such rapport are not easy to come by. The incident set a precedent.

But Dubinsky has smashed tradition for generations. He "makes" precedents as the 442,000 members of his big and wealthy union—80 per cent of them women—make ladies' garments, suits, cloaks, dresses and dainty unmentionables.

Of late Dubinsky has chosen to stay off the front pages. But today this labor leaders' labor leader is in Miami Beach directing the union's 32nd national convention through the intricacies of modern industrialism.

HE IS NEWS not only because it was his phone call from New York to Los Angeles in July 1960 which gave the nation's labor leaders the go-ahead signal for support of a Texan as the Democratic vice-presidential candidate by saying "He'll help Kennedy win."

He is news because of the amazing contents of his huge report to the convention delegates. There is, for example, an explanation of the International Ladies' Garment Workers (ILGWU) Investment Dept. It handles or advises on the placing of well over half a billion dollars deposited in an assortment of funds.

Some advice is being taken from David Rockefeller's Chase Manhattan Bank. (Dubinsky never permits politics to interfere with shrewd investments.) Some funds are handled directly by the department.

Some of the special funds have earned $52 million in the past three fiscal years. The central treasuries of the national office and the locals have $75 million invested—which are earning additional millions. The various funds are invested in huge housing projects, regular mortgages, homes for the military and in rural areas for the farmers' use.

THERE ARE intricate financial statements. Every member can have an accounting of every penny.

Dubinsky and his collegaues have become wizards in their industry as well as financial experts. No longer is the ladies' garment industry made up of little shops with a breezy extrovert of a salesman and an ulcerous "inside" production chief—the butt of so many comedian's jokes.

The dress industry is going the way of all business in our society. Firms have merged. They have gone "public"—on the stock exchanges.

Jonathan Logan, Inc., probably the biggest house, has 75 plants in 16 states. It's diversified, making thread and machinery as well as garments.

So big now are some of the "houses," the relationship between them and the needle union approaches that of a steel company and the United Steelworkers. "Impartial chairmen are needed—the University of Pennsylvania's George W. Taylor, for example, in the Jonathan Logan case.

DUBINSKY ALWAYS has had a flair for such chairmen. At one time or another the industry was "bossed" by the late Harry Hopkins and the late late Jimmy Walker.

"Little David," as some call him, has gone after some giants. When Adam Clayton Powell attacked him and his union, charging that it discriminated, Dubinsky took him on and won his battle. Dubinsky personally led the assault.

When some years ago, his staff decided to organize a union of organizers, Dubinsky would not be fazed by charges that as a union leader he was being anti-labor, because he fought such unionization.

Other unions backed down. Even the national AFL-CIO headquarters signed a labor contract with its field staff. But Dubinsky is still fighting in the courts. He says that a union is not a business and cannot be considered an employer of organizers.

There would be no union without in a union he said—and has stuck to his position.

At 72 he's battling as he did at 23 and 43. Thirty years ago he took on the Fascists, Nazis and Communists.

After the war he was a one-man army in the cold war. It was Dubinsky who stirred the AFL into helping the postwar unions fight off the heavily muscled and heavily financed Communists from West Berlin to Rome.

THERE NEVER has been a day when "DD" has not fought totalitarianism. When the left wing became powerful in the theater in the 30s, he bucked them. He produced a musical comedy called Pins and Needles.

When the mobs moved in on labor, he introduced the first anti-racketeering resolution in an AFL convention — and was slugged for it in a hotel lobby by Joe Fay, who was subesequently imprisoned for extortion.

He is partisan. Though he leads the Liberal party of New York, he is high in Democratic party esteem. Especially the President's.

Thus his report to the convention delegates concludes with " . . . In President Lyndon B. Johnson we have an ally in the White House . . ."

Little David is no mean ally himself. At 72 he is the labor movement's Winston Churchill—his best years are ahead of him.

So say his enemies—and even his friends.

Mexico's Image

By David Lawrence

Criticism Of U.S. Policy Seen Unwarranted

Mexico is our next-door neighbor and, despite occasional instances of friction over the years, the peoples of the two countries today have a common interest in the preservation of the American continent against the invasions of imperialism.

David Lawrence

It's surprising, therefore, to note the image of Mexico just portrayed to the people of the United States in a newspaper article in Mexico City by an official of the Mexican foreign office.

The impression given is that Mexico is indifferent to the mischief which Communist imperialism has wrought in the world and is willing to gloss over its acts of aggression and insidious infiltration, including efforts to overthrow governments in many countries of the world, particularly in Latin America.

Tourists from this country have gone to Mexico in recent years and found a cordial welcome, as have businessmen. Mexican officials, moreover, have expressed great friendship for the United States and an appreciation of the financial and economic contributions being made to Latin America through the Alliance for Progress.

THE UNITED STATES at one time, it will be recalled, interposed its force to prevent French imperialism under Maximilian from making Mexico a satellite of a European power. All this makes it difficult to understand why the Mexican government itself permits criticism of the United States such as now is appearing in print.

The Mexican official says that the landing of United States Marines and paratroopers in Santo Domingo has "sunk the efforts of Latin-American nations to get the United States to accept the principle of non-intervention as a guarantee of self-determination."

Hasn't the United States really endeavored to stop the intervention of the Communists in the Dominican Republic, and hasn't President Johnson announced that there is no intention to occupy Santo Domingo or to keep our troops there any longer than is necessary for the OAS to establish a peace-keeping formula?

The Mexican article adds:

"As of now, any of our peoples are exposed to invasion of U.S. Marines and paratroopers if the OAS does not hurry to send its own police at the moment demands or discontent arise which an interested group classifies as Communist."

THIS INFERENCE is disproved by the fact that the United States has urged the Organization of American States to develop a formula which would make it unnecessary for this country or any other country hereafter to intervene unilaterally.

The fact is that the Dominican Republic was exposed to a Communist takeover, and there was not time to wait for the hitherto procrastinating processes of the OAS. If anything, the episode emphasizes the importance of adopting a new formula which can instantly be brought into being by a group of Latin-American countries, acting together, in order to prevent intervention by any foreign power.

Unfortunately, the Communists have made inroads in almost every country in Latin America. Their stooges and agents have infiltrated important places, and they exercise an influence which even some people in the governments themselves are inclined to belittle or ignore.

Leaders Make Appeal In Mental Health Fund

Leaders prominent in various fields issued appeals today on behalf of the Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society fund drive which will be conducted Sunday afternoon.

C. G. Tournay, president of the Weirton Steel Co. and honorary chairman for the solicitation, declared: "The responsibility for the local mental health program lies with all residents of Hancock and Brooke counties and every citizen should help make the campaign a success."

Mrs. Audrey Litman, pointing out that "emotionally - disturbed children represent increasing problems," said that "the joint forces of the community are needed to provide the treatment necessary for the emotionally disturbed."

Also pressing the solicitation, among others, were Mrs. E. M. Clubb Jr., president of the Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society and Floyd Tarr, Hancock County prosecuting attorney.

Mrs. Clubb declared: "The complexities of our everyday society and our presently disturbed world have greatly affected the mental health of individuals and communities. The rise in crime, juvenile delinquency, suicides, divorces, school dropouts, alcoholism and similar emotional problems emphasize the need, at the local level, for mental health programs."

She pointed out the Hancock-Brooke society is endeavoring to meet the challenge through the service it provides. She stressed that "100 per cent of the $3,000 being sought in the solicitation will be administered and spent locally."

Tarr, in calling for "everyone in the Hancock-Brooke area to support Sunday's drive, said "the society presently is conducting a program of community education designed to acquaint the individuals of the area with mental health."

"It is hoped that with an increased awareness of the present laws of the state of West Virginia, that a climate of opinion will be produced in which adequate education will be produced for early recognition and treatment of people who are mentally ill."

Among chairmen assisting in the drive are Mrs. Mabel I. Wagner and Mrs. Samuel Manypenny, Chester; Mrs. Albert Logston and Mrs. B. J. Mangano, Newell, and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Herman and Mrs. Audrey Litman, New Cumberland and Pughtown.

Patrolmen Foil Threatened Leap Of Young Man

NEW YORK (AP)— An unemployed young bachelor from Brooklyn perched for 95 minutes on an outer beam of the world's largest suspension brige early today, threatening to jump 260 feet into New York harbor. Two patrolmen finally pulled him off.

The man, identified as Frederick Kork, 21, was taken to Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn for observation.

Police Sgt. William Kennedy of the Triborough Bridge Authority, a priest and Korn's father, Nathan, who arrived later, kept up a banter of conversation with him until officers were able to pull him from the new Verrazano-Narrows Bridge. His was the first such threat since the bridge opened last Nov. 21.

Kennedy and the priest, who declined identity, engaged Korn in conversation for 35 minutes before he gave them a telephone number where his father could be reached.

Leaders Make Appeal In Mental Health Fund

Leaders prominent in various fields issued appeals today on behalf of the Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society fund drive which will be conducted Sunday afternoon.

C. G. Tournay, president of the Weirton Steel Co. and honorary chairman for the solicitation, declared: "The responsibility for the local mental health program lies with all residents of Hancock and Brooke counties and every citizen should help make the campaign a success."

Mrs. Audrey Litman, pointing out that "emotionally - disturbed children represent increasing problems," said that "the joint forces of the community are needed to provide the treatment necessary for the emotionally disturbed."

Also pressing the solicitation, among others, were Mrs. E. M. Clubb Jr., president of the Hancock - Brooke County Mental Health Society and Floyd Tarr, Hancock County prosecuting attorney.

Mrs. Clubb declared: "The complexities of our everyday society and our presently disturbed world have greatly affected the mental health of individuals and communities. The rise in crime, juvenile delinquency, suicides, divorces, school dropouts, alcoholism and similar emotional problems emphasize the need, at the local level, for mental health programs."

She pointed out the Hancock-Brooke society is endeavoring to meet the challenge through the service it provides. She stressed that "100 per cent of the $3,000 being sought in the solicitation will be administered and spent locally."

Tarr, in calling for "everyone in the Hancock-Brooke area to support Sunday's drive, said "the society presently is conducting a program of community education designed to acquaint the individuals of the area with mental health."

"It is hoped that with an increased awareness of the present laws of the state of West Virginia, that a climate of opinion will be produced in which adequate education will be produced for early recognition and treatment of people who are mentally ill."

Among chairmen assisting in the drive are Mrs. Mabel I. Wagner and Mrs. Samuel Manypenny, Chester; Mrs. Albert Logston and Mrs. B. J. Mangano, Newell, and Mr. and Mrs. Abe Herman and Mrs. Audrey Litman, New Cumberland and Pughtown.

Patrolmen Foil Threatened Leap Of Young Man

NEW YORK (AP)— An unemployed young bachelor from Brooklyn perched for 95 minutes on an outer beam of the world's largest suspension brige early today, threatening to jump 260 feet into New York harbor. Two patrolmen finally pulled him off.

The man, identified as Frederick Kork, 21, was taken to Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn for observation.

Police Sgt. William Kennedy of the Triborough Bridge Authority, a priest and Korn's father, Nathan, who arrived later, kept up a banter of conversation with him until officers were able to pull him from the new Verrazano-Narrows Bridge. His was the first such threat since the bridge opened last Nov. 21.

Kennedy and the priest, who declined identity, engaged Korn in conversation for 35 minutes before he gave them a telephone number where his father could be reached.

Police said Korn, using telephones on the bridge, phoned them twice and told them he was going to jump.

During the tense moments, a police harbor patrol launch spread a net below Korn. Two police emergency crews and the Coast Guard also were on hand.

Flag Raiser was three years and two days old the day he won the Wood Memorial at Aqueduct. He was foaled at Ocala Stud Farm on April 15, 1962.

Dominican

Montes Arache said. "It doesn't matter that we'll be massacred, but we can no longer tolerate these American violations of the Santo Domingo cease-fire agreement."

Peace negotiations had stalled even before the air attack. On Wednesday a rebel spokesman indicated a settlement with the junta might be near. But informants said the rebels did not send an emissary Thursday to meet with representatives of the junta in the residence of the papal nuncio.

The OAS announced that 250 men from the Honduran army and 20 Costa Rican policemen would arrive in Santo Domingo today. They are the first Latin-American contributions to the inter-American force just established by the OAS to help maintain order in the Dominican Republic.

The Nicaraguan Chamber of Deputies authorized President Rene Schick to send 164 men including doctors and infantrymen to join the hemispheric force.

At the United Nations, a spokesman for the Dominican rebels said he would seek a special session of the U.N. General Assembly if necessary "to defend the independence" of the Dominican Republic.

Ruben Brache, a Dominican citizen in the export-import business in New York City, was designated by the rebles as the Dominican representative to the U.N. The Soviet Union and France are supporting Brache's bid.

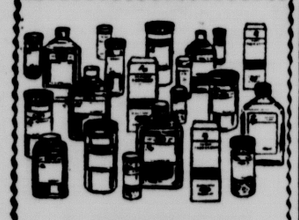

A council meeting this afternoon was to decide whether to admit Brache or Ambassador Guaroa Velazquez, representative of the previous civilian junta and of the present antirebel junta.

Business life in the Dominican capital is still virtually paralyzed. A major portion of the business district is in the rebel zone.

Banks, restaurants, liquor stores and the principal clothing and dry goods stores are still closed.

Food is coming into the capital from the countryside and some groceries are operating. So are barber shops.

The Baltimore Orioles opened the Fenway Park season in Boston with five runs in the first inning but lost to the Red Sox 12-9. Robin Roberts failed to hold the lead.

Vote Bill

Civil-rights advocates protested they hadn't even seen the leadership amendments. And Southern opponents also complained about being asked to agree to something they knew nothing about.

After time out for huddles on the floor, Mansfield said he was withdrawing his request for approval "in order to bring this comedy of errors to an end."

The Senate rejected, 66 to 19, an amendment by Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., to require federal registrars sent into Southern states to qualify voters in accord with state law.

In support of the amendment, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said, "There is no justice in permitting an illiterate to vote in South Carolina but not in New York." Both states have literacy tests, but South Carolina is covered by the bill while New York is not.

The other amendment defeated Thursday was offered by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt. It involved a provision that directs the attorney general to challenge in court the constitutionality of poll taxes or other taxes that have the purpose or effect of denying the right to vote.

Prouty's amendment, rejected 44 to 34, would have required suits brought by the attorney general to be based on the 15th Amendment's ban on abridgement of voting rights because of race or color.

Noble Victory, owned by K. D. Owen of Houston, earned $141,163 last season, winning 18 of 19 starts as a trotter. The brown colt is now three years old.

Follansbee Man Critical After Mishap

Walter Zadzilka, 31, of Follansbee was admitted to Weirton General Hospital in "critical" condition Thursday night following an auto accident on Route 2, two miles south of the Weirton city limits, Brooke County deputies reported today.

Zadzilka was one of four injured in the three-vehicle collision. Others hurt were Mrs. Helen McCollough, 49, of Mingo Junction; a passenger in her car, Mrs. Mary Millard, 26, of Weirton, and her daughter, Susan Millard, age 2.

The three were admitted to Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville in "fair" condition.

Mrs. McCollough and Mrs. Miller were pinned in the car a short time following the mishap, deputies said. The baby girl fell from the auto and received abrasions and possible head injuries.

The McCollough and Zadzilka autos collided nearly head - on and a small truck driven by John Saver Jr., 43, of Burgettstown R. D. 4 crashed into the rear of the McCollough car. All three vehicles were extensively damaged, deputies said. Saver was uninjured.

No charges have been filed in connection with the accident, which remains under investigation.

Post At Midland Plans For Picnic

The post approved the purchase of uniforms for six members. The color guards will participate in the Midland Memorial Day parade.

Three members attended a District 26 meeting in Mars, Pa. last week — Conrad Gilmore, Sam DeBerry and Leon Anderson, commander, who presided. At the meeting, the post was presented the "minute - man" award for going over the top in its 1964-65 membership drive.

Officers will be elected when the post meets May 27.

dents of the East Liverpool area providing 37 per cent of the working force and Wellsville, Chester and Smith's Ferry area another 18 per cent.

He pointed out Crucible's 1964 payroll amounted to $49 million, which meant that the proportional amount of salaries and wages returned to each of the 39 communities. Furthermore, he listed some purchases the firm makes locally which benefit the economy.

Breakiron said Crucible is in many ways dependent upon the district communities and is interested in assisting them in a program which will result in a beneficial growth for all.

In other action, the commission approved an amendment spelling out quorum requirements for meetings, discussed plans for recommendations to state officials for sites for a proposed county airport, and suggested the transportation committee study the possibilities of forming a port authority for administering the airport.

Several Hurt By Storms In Central U.S.

(By The Associated Press)

More storms raked central sections of the nation today but fairly pleasant weather prevailed in most other areas.

Tornadoes, rain, hail and strong winds were reported in parts of south-central Kansas, West Texas, western Oklahoma and the Nebraska Panhandle.

Several persons were injured, one seriously, when a tornado hit a trailer court as it passed over West Wichita, Kan., Thursday night. Most of the injuries were reported in traffic accidents. More than two inches of rain fell in a six-hour period.

Twisters touched down near Lubbock, Ackerly and Andrews in West Texas but no injuries were reported and property damage was minor. Heavy rain and hail hit the areas. Several highways in the Spearman-Gruver area in the Panhandle were closed by high water after Spearman was drenched with seven inches of rain. No injuries were reported in tornadoes which struck areas in Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Driver

ing with a passenger, and failed to negotiate the curve.

Pleading guilty to the reckless driving charge today, Dickerson was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Two more traffic mishaps were listed in East End Thursday night.

A collision at Beaver and St. George Sts. at 9:45 involved a 1962 model convertible driven by Larry A. Stollenwerk, 22, of Beaver Falls R.D. 1 and a parked 1957 model auto owned by Earl Miller, 927 St. George St., officers said.

Stollenwerk told police he was backing to turn his car at the intersection when the accelerator stuck He said he was unable to avoid striking Miller's car. Stollenwerk's car was undamaged. The left side of the Miller car was damaged, police said.

A collision on Pennsylvania Ave. 200 feet east of Wedgewood St. Thursday at 9:26 p. m. damaged a 1949 model station wagon driven by Darla J. Owens, 19, of 607 Palissey St. and a 1964 two-door sedan operated by Richard L. Andrason, 20, of 1945 Cleveland Ave., officers said.

Andrason was halted to make a left turn when his auto was hit from the rear by the Owens car, police said.

The young woman said she did not see the halted car. There was damage to the left front of the Owens car and a rear fender, trunk and bumper of the Andrason auto, officers said.

Lions Select Tridico For Chester Post

Final plans were made for the annual broom sale next Thursday.

It was announced three new club highway signs have been purchased and will be erected shortly.

Montes Arache said. "It doesn't matter that we'll be massacred, but we can no longer tolerate these American violations of the Santo Domingo cease-fire agreement."

Peace negotiations had stalled even before the air attack. On Wednesday a rebel spokesman indicated a settlement with the junta might be near. But informants said the rebels did not send an emissary Thursday to meet with representatives of the junta in the residence of the papal nuncio.

The OAS announced that 250 men from the Honduran army and 20 Costa Rican policemen would arrive in Santo Domingo today. They are the first Latin-American contributions to the inter-American force just established by the OAS to help maintain order in the Dominican Republic.

The Nicaraguan Chamber of Deputies authorized President Rene Schick to send 164 men including doctors and infantrymen to join the hemispheric force.

At the United Nations, a spokesman for the Dominican rebels said he would seek a special session of the U.N. General Assembly if necessary "to defend the independence" of the Dominican Republic.

Ruben Brache, a Dominican citizen in the export-import business in New York City, was designated by the rebles as the Dominican representative to the U.N. The Soviet Union and France are supporting Brache's bid.

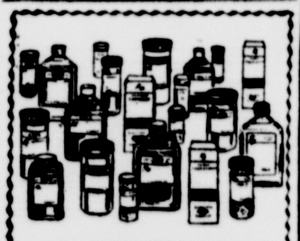

A council meeting this afternoon was to decide whether to admit Brache or Ambassador Guaroa Velazquez, representative of the previous civilian junta and of the present antirebel junta.

Business life in the Dominican capital is still virtually paralyzed. A major portion of the business district is in the rebel zone.

Banks, restaurants, liquor stores and the principal clothing and dry goods stores are still closed.

Food is coming into the capital from the countryside and some groceries are operating. So are barber shops.

The Baltimore Orioles opened the Fenway Park season in Boston with five runs in the first inning but lost to the Red Sox 12-9. Robin Roberts failed to hold the lead.

Vote Bill

Civil-rights advocates protested they hadn't even seen the leadership amendments. And Southern opponents also complained about being asked to agree to something they knew nothing about.

After time out for huddles on the floor, Mansfield said he was withdrawing his request for approval "in order to bring this comedy of errors to an end."

The Senate rejected, 66 to 19, an amendment by Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., to require federal registrars sent into Southern states to qualify voters in accord with state law.

In support of the amendment, Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said, "There is no justice in permitting an illiterate to vote in South Carolina but not in New York." Both states have literacy tests, but South Carolina is covered by the bill while New York is not.

The other amendment defeated Thursday was offered by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt. It involved a provision that directs the attorney general to challenge in court the constitutionality of poll taxes or other taxes that have the purpose or effect of denying the right to vote.

Prouty's amendment, rejected 44 to 34, would have required suits brought by the attorney general to be based on the 15th Amendment's ban on abridgement of voting rights because of race or color.

Follansbee Man Critical After Mishap

Walter Zadzilka, 31, of Follansbee was admitted to Weirton General Hospital in "critical" condition Thursday night following an auto accident on Route 2, two miles south of the Weirton city limits, Brooke County deputies reported today.

Zadzilka was one of four injured in the three-vehicle collision. Others hurt were Mrs. Helen McCollough, 49, of Mingo Junction; a passenger in her car, Mrs. Mary Millard, 26, of Weirton, and her daughter, Susan Millard, age 2.

The three were admitted to Ohio Valley Hospital in Steubenville in "fair" condition.

Mrs. McCollough and Mrs. Miller were pinned in the car a short time following the mishap, deputies said. The baby girl fell from the auto and received abrasions and possible head injuries.

The McCollough and Zadzilka autos collided nearly head - on and a small truck driven by John Saver Jr., 43, of Burgettstown R. D. 4 crashed into the rear of the McCollough car. All three vehicles were extensively damaged, deputies said. Saver was uninjured.

No charges have been filed in connection with the accident, which remains under investigation.

The post approved the purchase of uniforms for six members. The color guards will participate in the Midland Memorial Day parade.

Three members attended a District 26 meeting in Mars, Pa. last week — Conrad Gilmore, Sam DeBerry and Leon Anderson, commander, who presided. At the meeting, the post was presented the "minute - man" award for going over the top in its 1964-65 membership drive.

Officers will be elected when the post meets May 27.

He pointed out Crucible's 1964 payroll amounted to $49 million, which meant that the proportional amount of salaries and wages returned to each of the 39 communities. Furthermore, he listed some purchases the firm makes locally which benefit the economy.

Breakiron said Crucible is in many ways dependent upon the district communities and is interested in assisting them in a program which will result in a beneficial growth for all.

In other action, the commission approved an amendment spelling out quorum requirements for meetings, discussed plans for recommendations to state officials for sites for a proposed county airport, and suggested the transportation committee study the possibilities of forming a port authority for administering the airport.

Several Hurt By Storms In Central U.S.

(By The Associated Press)

More storms raked central sections of the nation today but fairly pleasant weather prevailed in most other areas.

Tornadoes, rain, hail and strong winds were reported in parts of south-central Kansas, West Texas, western Oklahoma and the Nebraska Panhandle.

Several persons were injured, one seriously, when a tornado hit a trailer court as it passed over West Wichita, Kan., Thursday night. Most of the injuries were reported in traffic accidents. More than two inches of rain fell in a six-hour period.

Twisters touched down near Lubbock, Ackerly and Andrews in West Texas but no injuries were reported and property damage was minor. Heavy rain and hail hit the areas. Several highways in the Spearman-Gruver area in the Panhandle were closed by high water after Spearman was drenched with seven inches of rain. No injuries were reported in tornadoes which struck areas in Oklahoma and Nebraska.

Pleading guilty to the reckless driving charge today, Dickerson was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Two more traffic mishaps were listed in East End Thursday night.

A collision at Beaver and St. George Sts. at 9:45 involved a 1962 model convertible driven by Larry A. Stollenwerk, 22, of Beaver Falls R.D. 1 and a parked 1957 model auto owned by Earl Miller, 927 St. George St., officers said.

Stollenwerk told police he was backing to turn his car at the intersection when the accelerator stuck He said he was unable to avoid striking Miller's car. Stollenwerk's car was undamaged. The left side of the Miller car was damaged, police said.

A collision on Pennsylvania Ave. 200 feet east of Wedgewood St. Thursday at 9:26 p. m. damaged a 1949 model station wagon driven by Darla J. Owens, 19, of 607 Palissey St. and a 1964 two-door sedan operated by Richard L. Andrason, 20, of 1945 Cleveland Ave., officers said.

Andrason was halted to make a left turn when his auto was hit from the rear by the Owens car, police said.

The young woman said she did not see the halted car. There was damage to the left front of the Owens car and a rear fender, trunk and bumper of the Andrason auto, officers said.

House Committee Begins Hearings On Strip Mining

COLUMBUS — Hearings are under way before the Ohio House Committee on Mines and Natural Resources on a new strip mine measure proposed by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wooster.

Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Republican of Columbiana County, heads the committee.

In an appearance yesterday, Larry Cook, executive vice president of the Ohio Reclamation Association, said his organization is willing to support more rigid requirements for land reclamation if all mining operators are treated alike and the requirements are within the physical and economic limits of the coal industry.

—:—

FRANK R. Middleton of Columbus, a surety bond businessman and bonding expert, kicked off the hearings with the warning that any increase in state-required bonds of strip miners may put smaller operators in Ohio out of business.

Cook brought a new danger to the attention of the committee. He called it prospecting by shovel.

He said miners seeking new surface mine coal seams could evade reclamation regulations on a legal loophole in the present law.

"At present, any operator, contractor or other entity can make excavations to determine the quality and quantity of the coal in a particular seam, and can leave the area without obligation to reclaim it, unless he actually removes coal from the ground," Cook said.

He said House Bill 448, proposed by Rep. Fisher, writes into the law the eight regulations recently put into effect through the authority of the Ohio chief of reclamation.

"It goes much further than that," he said, pointing out one section in which he said is found a new concept of the responsibility of the strip mine operator.

"We have dubbed this the good housekeeping section. For the first time the authority of the chief will be extended beyond the mining excavations to include the entire operation," Cook said.

HE SAID the definition of operation as stated in the law means "all the premises, facilities and equipment used in the process of producing coal from a designated strip mine."

Wetzel said the work of his committee largely will depend on the action of the Senate on an amended strip mining bill first proposed by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville.

That bill, now awaiting action by the Senate Rules Committee, was considered a much stronger bill until about 70 amendments were recently approved by the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Conservation.

Wetzel said the bill, if amended on the Senate floor to restore the tougher sections, would never get out of his committee once it was forwarded to the House.

2 Are Injured In Car Plunge

WEIRTON — Two persons were injured in a traffic accident in northern Hancock County Thursday.

Hancock County deputy sheriffs said a car driven by Emilio Julian, 38, of 106 Miller Ave., Weirton, went off State Route 66 onto the berm, crossed over the highway, plunged over a six-foot embankment, and came to rest in a garden.

Julian received no injuries, but Peter Pirraglia, of 266 School St., Weirton, and Walter Miller, of 102 Donel St., Weirton, passengers in the car, were injured and hospitalized.

Pirraglia was admitted to Weirton General Hospital for leg injuries and is reported to be in "satisfactory" condition. Miller was admitted, treated for hand injuries and released.

Hancock County deputies investigating said no charges have been filed in connection with the accident.

Thieves Haul Off Safe In County, But Get Nothing

LISBON — Thieves hauled off a 600-pound safe last night or early this morning from the East Ohio Poultry Association office, just west of Columbiana.

C. T. Newsom, manager, reported the theft to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office, and Deputy Herman Wellman conducted an investigation. The safe was unlocked and contained nothing of value, Newsom said.

He said no money is kept at the plant.

The thieves pried open the front door to the office to gain entrance and apparently rolled the safe across the floor to the door and then outside and loaded it on a truck.

Nothing else in the office was reported missing, Deputy Wellman said.

Cited Drivers Charged $76 For Old Tags

Three motorists accused of ignoring old parking tickets paid a total of $76.50 in fines, costs and forfeitures today in Municipal Court on affidavits signed by "Meter Maids."

John L. Silva, 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., was fined $18 and $7.50 costs when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge signed by "Meter Maid" Leah Kelly alleging he parked overtime Jan. 14 on E. 5th St. Attached to the affidavit were four more tickets which he allegedly ignored.

Two others, also accused of failure to pay the penalty for five tickets, forfeited $25.50 appearance bonds.

Baker was charged specifically with ignoring a ticket issued for an overtime violation Oct. 19, 1964, on E. 6th St. Four more tickets were attached to the affidavit.

Brewer was charged specifically with parking in a restricted zone in Crook Alley Sept. 9, 1964. The affidavit against him was signed by "Meter Maid" Catherine Martin. He also held four more outstanding tickets.

The court's standard penalty for old tickets calls for a fine of $10 and $7.50 costs for the first and $2 for each remaining ticket.

The "Meter Maids" filed the charges Thursday, following through on a warning issued earlier that drivers would be haled into court on any unpaid tickets issued before 1964 Ohio auto licenses expired April 1. The meter attendants said today more charges will be filed shortly.

2 Firemen Hurt In Forest Blaze

Two volunteer firemen were injured in a woods fire which burned off about 15 acres in the Sprucevale Rd. north of Calcutta Thursday evening.

Okey Anthony, 59, of 4th Ave., LaCroft, suffered a fractured ankle and a cut on the chin when jarred while riding on the back of the Liverpool West department truck. The truck struck a depression in the road at Calcutta while en route to the blaze at 7:25.

Carl Lee, 32, of the Glenmoor department received an ankle injury while fighting the fire. Both were treated at City Hospital.

Hearing Scheduled In Traffic Accident

Miss Patricia A. Mikita, 28, of East Liverpool was charged with improper passing, lack of a driver's license and improper registration following a traffic mishap Thursday in the Chester vicinity.

Miss Mikita's car hit the rear of a truck driven by William E. Sandoe, 52, of Salineville, it was reported.

She is scheduled to appear before Squire Harry Lytton of Newell May 15.

To Meet Manpower Requirements

Navy Recruits Personnel With Limited Abilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said today it has had to recruit a fairly heavy percentage of men with limited abilities in order to meet its manpower requirements.

For months, roughly one-fourth of those enlisted have been in what is called "Group IV" — men whose score in qualification tests indicates insufficient aptitude to absorb technical training.

"These men have the potential to perform capably in the unskilled technical fields," the Navy said. It mentioned in this connection jobs as cooks, boatswain's mates and the like.

A Navy spokesman said that normally only about 6 per cent of those accepted by the Navy have been in the lower aptitude group.

Official figures showed that in November, 27 per cent of those enlisted were in this group, 24 per cent in December, 24 per cent in January, 25.7 per cent in February and 22.1 per cent in March.

"Group IV personnel are being recruited in order to meet Navy manpower requirements when better qualified personnel cannot be recruited or do not volunteer for enlistment," the Navy said.

It said men of this caliber do not usually work in the technical rates such as electronics technician, communications technician, and aviation electronics technician.

Selective Service officials told a reporter that there was talk some months ago that the Navy might have to resort to the draft to fill its ranks. The last time the Navy used the draft was March 1956. It took 10,000 men that month.

Available figures show that the Navy has fallen short of its recruiting goals for months.

Last November the goal was 7,119 men and only 6,128 were signed up. In December the goal was 5,565 and the number recruited reached only 4,875. In January the Navy sought 10,290 recruits and gathered in only 8,188.

Idle South Bend Teachers Told To Return Or Be Fired

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Idle teachers returned to their extended union meeting today, faced with the school superintendent's ultimatum of return to class or be fired.

About 360 of the city's 1,400 public school teachers, members of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, voted unanimously Thursday night to continue a classroom boycott that began last Tuesday.

Supt. Alex Jardne wired federation leaders that failure of the teachers to return "will be construed as a breach of your contract, insubordination and neglect of duty."

The 360 teachers began on Tuesday their union meeting, which they insist is not a strike, after the board adopted a $5,200 wage scale for beginners with bachelors' degrees. The federation wants $5,400, up $400 from the current base.

School officials reported pupils adapting to boycotted classrooms as parents filled in as monitors. Numerous pupil demonstrations that marked the first two days were tapering off.

Personnel from the school administration headquarters took over teaching some classes with parents serving as home room monitors.

Principal Lawrence McKinney of Central High School said two or three outstanding pupils were teaching classes under supervision of adults.

Some mothers kept their children out of school. The South Bend Tribune reported it received numerous calls asking if it was safe to send children to school.

Neither the Parent-Teachers Association nor Mayor Lloyd Allen has made public a position on the boycott.

Cregar To Serve As Marshal For Memorial Rites

James Cregar, commander of American Legion Post 374 and commander of the Columbiana County American Legion, was chosen to serve as parade marshal for the Memorial Day activities May 31 during a meeting of the Veterans City Council Thursday night at the VFW Post home.

Reports of various committees for the annual observance were presented. John Ruhe presided in the absence of Cregar, council president.

The group went on record as supporting the observance of Hire Vetearns Week May 16 - May 22.

The next meeting will be May 21 at 8 p. m. at City Hall, when names of groups who plan to participate in the parade must be submitted.

Man Held For Court In Burglary Charges

A Midland man was held for the Beaver County Court today on burglary charges after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul McGeehan of Midland.

Peter Mamuzich of 51 Midland Ave., along with Gary Brandenburg, 22, of Industry R. D. 1, is accused of breaking into the Ray W. Snyder Elementary School on May 6.

They apparently took nothing at the school, but crossed the highway to Western Beaver High School where they attempted to break into a safe, authorities said.

Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns is the first National Football League player to gain more than 10,000 yards on the ground. In eight seasons he rushed for 10,768 yards on 2,070 carries.

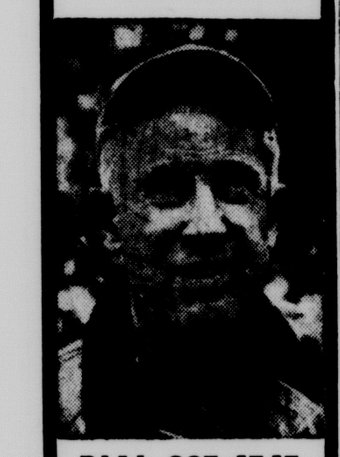

Burglars Rob Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police won't know until orchestra conductor George Szell returns from a European tour in September what was taken by burglars who ransacked his Shaker Heights home.

The home was entered through a bathroom window, which was found broken Thursday, police said. The house was ransacked sometime between May 3 and May 10. Priceless music scores in the library were not touched.

Szell is on tour with the Cleveland Orchestra until Sept. 15.

COLUMBUS — Hearings are under way before the Ohio House Committee on Mines and Natural Resources on a new strip mine measure proposed by Rep. Ralph E. Fisher, R-Wooster.

Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel, Republican of Columbiana County, heads the committee.

In an appearance yesterday, Larry Cook, executive vice president of the Ohio Reclamation Association, said his organization is willing to support more rigid requirements for land reclamation if all mining operators are treated alike and the requirements are within the physical and economic limits of the coal industry.

—:—

FRANK R. Middleton of Columbus, a surety bond businessman and bonding expert, kicked off the hearings with the warning that any increase in state-required bonds of strip miners may put smaller operators in Ohio out of business.

Cook brought a new danger to the attention of the committee. He called it prospecting by shovel.

He said miners seeking new surface mine coal seams could evade reclamation regulations on a legal loophole in the present law.

"At present, any operator, contractor or other entity can make excavations to determine the quality and quantity of the coal in a particular seam, and can leave the area without obligation to reclaim it, unless he actually removes coal from the ground," Cook said.

He said House Bill 448, proposed by Rep. Fisher, writes into the law the eight regulations recently put into effect through the authority of the Ohio chief of reclamation.

"It goes much further than that," he said, pointing out one section in which he said is found a new concept of the responsibility of the strip mine operator.

"We have dubbed this the good housekeeping section. For the first time the authority of the chief will be extended beyond the mining excavations to include the entire operation," Cook said.

HE SAID the definition of operation as stated in the law means "all the premises, facilities and equipment used in the process of producing coal from a designated strip mine."

Wetzel said the work of his committee largely will depend on the action of the Senate on an amended strip mining bill first proposed by Sen. Edmund A. Sargus, D-St. Clairsville.

That bill, now awaiting action by the Senate Rules Committee, was considered a much stronger bill until about 70 amendments were recently approved by the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Conservation.

Wetzel said the bill, if amended on the Senate floor to restore the tougher sections, would never get out of his committee once it was forwarded to the House.

2 Are Injured In Car Plunge

WEIRTON — Two persons were injured in a traffic accident in northern Hancock County Thursday.

Hancock County deputy sheriffs said a car driven by Emilio Julian, 38, of 106 Miller Ave., Weirton, went off State Route 66 onto the berm, crossed over the highway, plunged over a six-foot embankment, and came to rest in a garden.

Julian received no injuries, but Peter Pirraglia, of 266 School St., Weirton, and Walter Miller, of 102 Donel St., Weirton, passengers in the car, were injured and hospitalized.

Pirraglia was admitted to Weirton General Hospital for leg injuries and is reported to be in "satisfactory" condition. Miller was admitted, treated for hand injuries and released.

Hancock County deputies investigating said no charges have been filed in connection with the accident.

Thieves Haul Off Safe In County, But Get Nothing

LISBON — Thieves hauled off a 600-pound safe last night or early this morning from the East Ohio Poultry Association office, just west of Columbiana.

C. T. Newsom, manager, reported the theft to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office, and Deputy Herman Wellman conducted an investigation. The safe was unlocked and contained nothing of value, Newsom said.

He said no money is kept at the plant.

The thieves pried open the front door to the office to gain entrance and apparently rolled the safe across the floor to the door and then outside and loaded it on a truck.

Nothing else in the office was reported missing, Deputy Wellman said.

Cited Drivers Charged $76 For Old Tags

Three motorists accused of ignoring old parking tickets paid a total of $76.50 in fines, costs and forfeitures today in Municipal Court on affidavits signed by "Meter Maids."

John L. Silva, 1701 Pennsylvania Ave., was fined $18 and $7.50 costs when he pleaded guilty before Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge signed by "Meter Maid" Leah Kelly alleging he parked overtime Jan. 14 on E. 5th St. Attached to the affidavit were four more tickets which he allegedly ignored.

Two others, also accused of failure to pay the penalty for five tickets, forfeited $25.50 appearance bonds.

Baker was charged specifically with ignoring a ticket issued for an overtime violation Oct. 19, 1964, on E. 6th St. Four more tickets were attached to the affidavit.

Brewer was charged specifically with parking in a restricted zone in Crook Alley Sept. 9, 1964. The affidavit against him was signed by "Meter Maid" Catherine Martin. He also held four more outstanding tickets.

The court's standard penalty for old tickets calls for a fine of $10 and $7.50 costs for the first and $2 for each remaining ticket.

The "Meter Maids" filed the charges Thursday, following through on a warning issued earlier that drivers would be haled into court on any unpaid tickets issued before 1964 Ohio auto licenses expired April 1. The meter attendants said today more charges will be filed shortly.

To Meet Manpower Requirements

Navy Recruits Personnel With Limited Abilities

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said today it has had to recruit a fairly heavy percentage of men with limited abilities in order to meet its manpower requirements.

For months, roughly one-fourth of those enlisted have been in what is called "Group IV" — men whose score in qualification tests indicates insufficient aptitude to absorb technical training.

"These men have the potential to perform capably in the unskilled technical fields," the Navy said. It mentioned in this connection jobs as cooks, boatswain's mates and the like.

A Navy spokesman said that normally only about 6 per cent of those accepted by the Navy have been in the lower aptitude group.

Official figures showed that in November, 27 per cent of those enlisted were in this group, 24 per cent in December, 24 per cent in January, 25.7 per cent in February and 22.1 per cent in March.

"Group IV personnel are being recruited in order to meet Navy manpower requirements when better qualified personnel cannot be recruited or do not volunteer for enlistment," the Navy said.

It said men of this caliber do not usually work in the technical rates such as electronics technician, communications technician, and aviation electronics technician.

Selective Service officials told a reporter that there was talk some months ago that the Navy might have to resort to the draft to fill its ranks. The last time the Navy used the draft was March 1956. It took 10,000 men that month.

Available figures show that the Navy has fallen short of its recruiting goals for months.

Last November the goal was 7,119 men and only 6,128 were signed up. In December the goal was 5,565 and the number recruited reached only 4,875. In January the Navy sought 10,290 recruits and gathered in only 8,188.

Idle South Bend Teachers Told To Return Or Be Fired

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Idle teachers returned to their extended union meeting today, faced with the school superintendent's ultimatum of return to class or be fired.

About 360 of the city's 1,400 public school teachers, members of the American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, voted unanimously Thursday night to continue a classroom boycott that began last Tuesday.

Supt. Alex Jardne wired federation leaders that failure of the teachers to return "will be construed as a breach of your contract, insubordination and neglect of duty."

The 360 teachers began on Tuesday their union meeting, which they insist is not a strike, after the board adopted a $5,200 wage scale for beginners with bachelors' degrees. The federation wants $5,400, up $400 from the current base.

School officials reported pupils adapting to boycotted classrooms as parents filled in as monitors. Numerous pupil demonstrations that marked the first two days were tapering off.

Personnel from the school administration headquarters took over teaching some classes with parents serving as home room monitors.

Principal Lawrence McKinney of Central High School said two or three outstanding pupils were teaching classes under supervision of adults.

Some mothers kept their children out of school. The South Bend Tribune reported it received numerous calls asking if it was safe to send children to school.

Neither the Parent-Teachers Association nor Mayor Lloyd Allen has made public a position on the boycott.

The group went on record as supporting the observance of Hire Vetearns Week May 16 - May 22.

The next meeting will be May 21 at 8 p. m. at City Hall, when names of groups who plan to participate in the parade must be submitted.

Man Held For Court In Burglary Charges

A Midland man was held for the Beaver County Court today on burglary charges after a hearing before Justice of the Peace Paul McGeehan of Midland.

Peter Mamuzich of 51 Midland Ave., along with Gary Brandenburg, 22, of Industry R. D. 1, is accused of breaking into the Ray W. Snyder Elementary School on May 6.

They apparently took nothing at the school, but crossed the highway to Western Beaver High School where they attempted to break into a safe, authorities said.

Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns is the first National Football League player to gain more than 10,000 yards on the ground. In eight seasons he rushed for 10,768 yards on 2,070 carries.

Burglars Rob Home

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police won't know until orchestra conductor George Szell returns from a European tour in September what was taken by burglars who ransacked his Shaker Heights home.

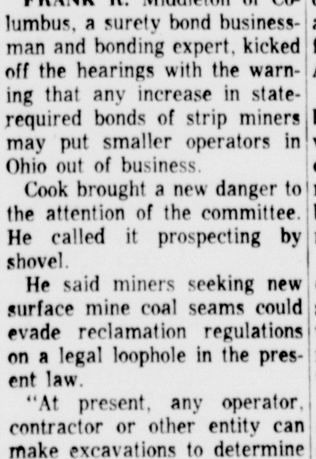

The home was entered through a bathroom window, which was found broken Thursday, police said. The house was ransacked sometime between May 3 and May 10. Priceless music scores in the library were not touched.

Szell is on tour with the Cleveland Orchestra until Sept. 15.

Out Of The Air

Television Goes Soft On Hard News

The current crisis in Santo Domingo has increased suspicion among trained news observers that television is tending to soft-pedal hard news. In the last 10 days, it has been fairly obvious that an average newspaper reader is better informed on the various factions struggling for power in Santo Domingo than viewers of most TV news programs. Some of the fault for TV's superficial coverage in Santo Domingo can be ascribed to the medium's time limitations.

Hal Humphrey

A half-hour hardly puts a Walter Cronkite or Chet Huntley in a position to cover as much as a newspaper.

-:-

EVEN SO, it was disheartening to see Cronkite last Monday acting more like a government spokesman than a newsman. CBS' correspondent Bob Schakne had just shown viewers how American Marines were digging in around Santo Domingo and aiming artillery at the rebels in the city.

"And as President Johnson has made clear . . . this has been done to prevent a Communist takeover," said Cronkite as soon as the Schakne report was over.

His statement came over more as an apology than an addendum or conclusion. President Johnson's reasons for our being in Santo Domingo had been made clear by him several days ago.

ON THIS SAME Monday the Associated Press carried a detailed interview with Juan D. Bosch, former Dominican Republic president, in which he accused our U.S. Embassy in Santo Domingo of deliberately creating confusion. No mention of this interview was made on either the Cronkite or Huntley-Brinkley news that day.

Last Sunday the Los Angeles Service filed a dispatch from correspondent David Kraslow, who was citing several examples of how U.S. officials had lied about phases of the events in Santo Domingo. None of the major TV networks apparently attached much importance to this development, because they seemed to ignore it.

A year ago one of the CBS Reports producers, Jack Beck, suggested to Fred Friendly (now president of CBS news) that a program be done on Mexico as an example of how that Latin country's revolution had been opposed by the United States, but now was held up by us as a showcase of stability, socially and politically.

PRODUCER BECK finished this documentary six months ago, but it never has been scheduled for airing. Beck says the program virtually forecast another Latin-American explosion such as the one now taking place in the Dominican Republic, and also the program suggests what might be done to prevent further such explosions.

Asked recently why the Mexican CBS Reports had not been aired, Friendly told Beck he was waiting for some kind of "news peg" to hang it on. Two days later our Marines landed in Santo Domingo, but Beck has heard nothing from Friendly.

Next Monday, CBS Reports is repeating a program called "Abortion and the Law." The following Monday CBS News has a special in the CBS Reports time spot which supposedly is to test how well or badly Americans drive their cars.

UNLIKE newspaper editors, who rarely have any reason to visit the White House, the presidents of TV networks and their news chiefs frequently are in consultation with the President over the matter of his "fireside" talks and other matters related to his exposure on the medium.

It would be only human if this first-name camaraderie resulted in the network officials' giving every break they could to "the boss." Unfortunately, in the business of news, it is not good to be too friendly with the people whose activities you are covering.

5 Adults, 8 Children

Modern-Day 'Pioneers' Seek New Life In Canada

DODGE CITY, Kan. (AP)—A tattered group of modern-day pioneers — five adults and eight children — are making their way north across the United States determined to find a better life in Canada.

Their trip is fraught with peril, such as juvenile officers who wonder why the children aren't in school, townspeople who consider them panhandlers, and youngsters who find them fit game for mischief.

Wagon master and originator of the trek is Don Cunningham. Cunningham, his wife and their two children started from Olney, Tex., on Feb. 17. At Cordell, Okla., they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Freeman of Iowa Park, Tex. and their six children. And at Lone Wolf, Okla. a bachelor named Norman Dougherty hitched on.

They are traveling in two covered wagons, makeshift affairs with automobile wheels. With them is a small menage — two teams of horses, a mule, some goats, chickens and dogs. They hope the animals will qualify them to homestead near McBridge, B.C. They travel about 20 miles a day.

"I'm mad at the whole state of Kansas," said Cunningham. "I've been mistreated all the time I've been in Kansas. I'm not going to talk to anyone here any more."

And he wouldn't.

At Dodge City, Wednesday, the travelers were interviewed by Norma J. Abbey, a juvenile officer.

"I jumped them about the kids not being in school," Abbey said. "They were kind of rude and said the children didn't have to go to school. Cunningham said he didn't send his kids to school because he didn't believe in it.

"He said they were going to Canada where they could do as they damned pleased; that they were getting tired of being pushed around."

Abbey said one of the first questions he was asked by the men was if they were going to be arrested.

"I said no, that I would just make out a report," Abbey said. "At that they started packing up and 15 minutes later they were gone."

"The men are in their 30s, wearing full, bushy beards, Western hats and blue jeans," Abbey said. He added that Cunningham said he was getting touchy about his treatment in Kansas.

"I told him I'm touchy too about parents who won't send their kids to school," said Abbey.

GOOF BALLS AND PEP PILLS

Q. What, exactly, are goof balls?

A. "Goof balls" and companion "pep pills" are back-alley names for barbiturates and amphetamines, respectively. Both types of drugs serve useful medical purposes and both legally must be prescribed by doctors. Trouble begins when the drugs are procured and used illegally. Goof balls create a trance-like effect and remove social and sexual inhibitions. Pep pills, says one harrassed police chief, "make antisocial lions out of kids as timid as mice." The problem of goof balls and pep pills has grown to such proportions that legislative leaders are planning further action to curb illicit sale of the drugs. Increased vigilance is certainly called for — an estimated 4½ billion tablets find their way into illegal channels every year.

EARLY MENOPAUSE

Q. I am only 42 and have already gone through the menopause. Isn't this abnormal?

A. Somewhat unusual, perhaps, but not necessarily abnormal. A century ago the average age at menopause was about 44 years whereas today it is closer to 50. The reason for this is unknown.

GOOF BALLS AND PEP PILLS

Q. What, exactly, are goof balls?

A. "Goof balls" and companion "pep pills" are back-alley names for barbiturates and amphetamines, respectively. Both types of drugs serve useful medical purposes and both legally must be prescribed by doctors. Trouble begins when the drugs are procured and used illegally. Goof balls create a trance-like effect and remove social and sexual inhibitions. Pep pills, says one harrassed police chief, "make antisocial lions out of kids as timid as mice." The problem of goof balls and pep pills has grown to such proportions that legislative leaders are planning further action to curb illicit sale of the drugs. Increased vigilance is certainly called for — an estimated 4½ billion tablets find their way into illegal channels every year.

EARLY MENOPAUSE

Q. I am only 42 and have already gone through the menopause. Isn't this abnormal?

A. Somewhat unusual, perhaps, but not necessarily abnormal. A century ago the average age at menopause was about 44 years whereas today it is closer to 50. The reason for this is unknown.

Women Ride Outside Step On Frisco Cable Cars

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Tradition dies hard in this windy city, and none has been laid to rest with more wordage than the custom of the "outside step" of the dear old dinky cable cars.

Since 1873, when they first clattered up the hills of San Francisco, it has been traditional that the weaker sex — that is to say, women — should not ride the outside step.

The outside step — a 10-foot-long running board along the outside seat — was a male stronghold. The woman who tried to ride this hallowed plank was soon told off by the conductor, or by the gripman who drives the cars with long steel grips that clutch the moving cable.

But in recent weeks the outside step has been integrated — for women.

"Get 'em off!" bellowed Tom McGrath, spokesman for the Cable Car Gripmen's Union, when a college coed, Mona Hutchin, 19, dared break the ice. She insisted she could ride outside — lawfully.

And so she could. In fact, so could all females. Turned out there is no law against women riding the step.

"It doesn't make any difference to me whether they ride outside," said husky John Hepburn, gripman of the Hyde Street Line.

Conductor Frank Brown agreed: "No difference to me at all," he said. "If they fall off, they fall off. Just wait, they'll start falling off."

No women were on the step at the time. The main objections to their riding there are that they're weaker than men, wear skirts that can blow revealingly aloft in high breezes, and—besides — they're women! The objection about the skirts was based on the theory that the girls, in trying to get their wind-blown skirts down, would forget about hanging on to the railing and toppple off.

On another car a little later: "Now look. Are you two going to stand out there?" gripman Jim Stewart said, glowering at Sue Cuddeback and Kerin Baker.

"Then you got to hang on with both hands or in you come. Both hands!"

Passengers turned as one to watch.

"Both hands, see," snarled Stewart.

"How are we going to get our fares if we have to hang on with both hands?" said Sue, hanging on with both hands.

"I don't care," scoffed Stewart. "Like I said, both, both hands!"

Young Criticizes Freedom Group As 'Right-Wing'

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — U. S. Sen. Stephen M. Young criticized the Young Americans for Freedom as a "radical, extremist right-wing group" Thursday and said YAF's threat of a boycott caused the Firestone Tire & rubber Co. to drop negotiations for a $50-million plant in Romania.

Firestone called off negotiations for the synthetic rubber plant last month. A Firestone spokesman said Thursday night the boycott threat was a factor but not the main factor. The spokesman declined to elaborate. He said the deal "just did not work out."

Speaking at a Kiwanis luncheon, Young said "it seems unbelievable that a group, playing God with other people's patriotism, can intimidate the officials of a national organization like Firestone."

Young, saying the information he had was from a newspaper story, told the group that Firestone called off the deal April 20 after learning of YAF plans to set up a "Committee Against Slave Labor" office in Indianapolis the week before the annual 500-mile Memorial Day auto race.

YAF was reported planning a massive publicity campaign urging a boycott of Firestone tires and aimed at spoiling Firestone's normal promotional activities in connection with the race.

White Citizens Give Funds To Rebuild Bombed Church

OXFORD, Ala. (AP) — The white citizens of Anniston, Ala., responded to the news that a small Negro church in a nearby community had been bombed by quickly contributing $2,000 toward its rebuilding.

The money poured in from individuals, industries and the Anniston Star in the northeast Alabama city which was the site last Sunday of a Ku Klux Klan rally and parade.

The fund was started as soon as it became known that the 29-member Pine Christian Methodist Episcopal Church in the Friendship community near here had been destroyed by a dynamite bomb.

The Rev. W. W. Thomas of Bessemer, presiding elder of the church, said a meeting has been scheduled Monday to lay out plans for the rebuilding.

However, V. S. Westbrooks, chairman of the board of stewards of the little Negro church, said the members would do most of the rebuilding themselves.

"We built it once; we'll do it again," Westbrooks said. "We're not depending on nobody else."

An employe of a paper company near Oxford, Westbrooks added, "We are going to tear it down and start all over. It's too badly damaged to try to patch it up."

Westbrooks, who discovered the damage wrought by a dynamite bomb that blasted the church's interior early Thursday, said, "The members of the church will contribute as much as they can" toward the rebuilding. Such contributions, he added, probably would be in the form of time and materials rather than money.

That's where the help from the white citizens of Anniston will come in handy — obtaining the materials necessary for restoring the church.

Westbrooks was among the group that constructed the little church 11 year ago.

The church, valued at between $7,000 and $10,000 was completely built by the members except for some bricklaying.

No one was hurt in the explosion which wrecked the church's sanctuary and rocked homes in a two-mile area.

Mrs. George Berdine will be the director and Mrs. Oliver Payne assistant director. Anyone interested in teaching is asked to contact Rev. Moxley immediately.

Dick Colman of Princeton has the best record of Ivy League football coaches. In eight seasons his Tigers have won 50 games and lost 22. They have played no tie games during his regime.

Battle Lines Formed On Illinois State Bird

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Legislators are storming and forming battle lines for a showdown on changing the Illinois official state bird from the cardinal to the purple martin.

The House Waterways Committee has endorsed, 23-4, a bill to make the purple martin the new state bird.

Rep. John Morris, D-Chadwick, Ill., the principal sponsor of the legislation, says there's nothing sacred about the cardinal.

Rep. Charles Clabaugh, R-Champaign, Ill., objects.

"It offends me that we should change the state bird on the basis of commercialism," he said.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Visiting Children Need Supervision

Repeatedly in this column, I have entreated parents to attract and welcome other people's children into their homes. Doing so helps provide playmates for their children. It also enables parents to study their own children in relation to other children and to help them become better playmates. But your own child may be more excitable and harder to guide and manage then. The visiting child may be there more often and longer than you desire.

Dr. Garry Myers

His own parents may consider your home a place to leave him frequently for their convenience. He may not conform to civil ways of acting, even when his own parents are with him. Appropos is the following letter from a mother in Indiana.

—:—

"THERE ARE many times when extra children must be in my home for a day, a week or more. I sometimes have one child to baby-sit for. Sometimes a child is just visiting for a day. Once I had my sister's son for a week while she was in the hospital.

"Still another nine - year - old has been with us almost since birth for a week to several weeks before going back home again. I always have extra children around and probably always will.

"These children feel upset and out of place anyway; when faced with so many new rules they may not remember or may not try to remember. If I ease up on the rules for them, my children begin acting hurt. They begin tattling every time the smallest rule is broken. Then they may begin to break the same rules and to wait and see if I will do anything about it. They really seem better satisfied if they are scolded or punished as usual.

"SOME parents also bring children in and allow them to walk on expensive furniture and run up and down stairs, even though I have made it clear that our children are not allowed to play in that room or on the stairs."

My reply in part. You report a very common but hard problem. I think you should try to have only a few rules that you're sure are very important and then hold these visiting children to these rules just as you hold your own children to them.

Be exacting. When a child of yours violates these rules, see that he gets a penalty such as staying alone in his room for half an hour or more sitting in a chair for a definite period, unamused, where you can see him. Do try to find more ways to cause the visiting children and your own to have enjoyments together.

About the hardest problem I know of is with the mother who brings a child to your home and lets him run wild. As a rule, I think you should say calmly, "We just don't allow this," even at the risk of losing the friendship of the visiting mother.

I FIND it hard to feel patient with this type of mother. Not many mothers can, in whose home this selfish mother visits and allows her youngster to wreck their home and not lift a hand. They have a right to be incensed.

Why should any mother go visiting with her youngster unless she has educated him at home reasonbly well to be careful of the furniture and other equipment here or has not at least trained him to respect unambiguously the little word NO.

Congressmen Jumping Into Jumping Frog Test

The attraction is the 100th anniversary observance of Mark Twain's story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," and a $1,000 top prize for the sponsor of the frog breaking the world's record. The jubilee is set for May 20-23 at the Calaveras County Fair.

Members of Congress were invited — in fact, challenged — by Rep. Harold T. Johnson, D-Calif., to enter their jumpiest frogs in a special congressional division event. Johnson warned his colleagues they would be competing against Gold Back, "the outstanding frog in my personal stable."

Rep. John A. Race, D-Wis., claiming to represent the frog capital of the world — Oshkosh, Wis. — acepted the challenge. He bragged that the smallest Wisconsin frog can outjump California's biggest.

Signing himself John (Frog) Race, he entered a frog he named Old 89 in honor of the current 89th Congress.

Not so boastful was Rep. James M. Hanley, D-N.Y., who said: "I can't help leaping at the opportunity to field an entry in your centennial frog race."

Sens. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and George Murphy, R-Calif., gave what may be the first thoroughbred Kentucky bullfrog ever entered in the annual jubilee a workout Thursday on the Capitol steps.

Murphy was named the jumper Kentucky Ev, because, according to Morton's office, the Californian detects a resemblance to GOP Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The rules say a jockey may not touch a frog after placing it on the canvas at the starting line. But he may "jump up and down, whoop, holler, blow on him, beat on the canvas and-or pray for him to make a move."

The frog is permitted three jumps, the distance from the starting point to the spot on which he lands on the third jump determining the score.

The Calaveras County recognized record is 17 feet 1.5 inches.

Anti-Pollution Program Pushed For Yellow Creek

Jefferson County commissioners today adopted a resolution asking the U. S. Public Health Service to designate the Yellow Creek drainage area as a federal acid mine drainage control demonstration project and to seek federal funds under the Appalachian Regional Development Act.

Commissioner Michael Blischak of Steubenville, who introduced the resolution, said a public meeting is being planned in the Hammondsville area to eliminate pollution of the creek by acid mine drainage.

The Appalachian Act provides financial contributions to states to seal abandoned coal mines. The application for federal funds will be made to the Division of Forestry and Reclamation of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

The department's Division of Wildlife also will be asked to expand and accelerate fish and wildlife restoration projects in the Yellow Creek area, the resolution provides.

Blischak's resolution pointed out that Yellow Creek today is practically as nature originally developed it and that the sealing of several abandoned coal mines would substantially remove the acid mine drainage and pollution of the waters.

"The waters of Yellow Creek ought to be crystal clear and sparkling with tall, thick grass growing on the banks; ought to be abundant with a food supply, habitat and other environmental conditions for the propagation, preservation and protection of fish and other wild animals, and ought to serve as a sanctuary and refuge," the resolution declared.

"The area of Yellow Creek has been so richly endowed in unsurpassable scenery and natural resources and has the greatest significant potential for future growth as a recreational area, for sport fishing and a water resource development project," it said.

Minnesota pitchers last season turned in only four shutouts.

Ohio Slayer Of 2 Nabbed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard H. Jemison, 56, accused Columbus slayer, was en route back to Ohio today from Pontiac, Ill., where he was captured Wednesday.

Columbus detectives put Jemison into their car at the Livington County, Ill., jail in Pontiac about 8:30 a.m. for the return trip to Columbus.

Illinois authorities said Jemison signed extradition papers and consented to return to Columbus to face charges he killed his wife, Virginia, 49, at the Jeminson home last Monday, and then fatally wounded John Lyman, 36, manager of a Gray Drug store in downtown Columbus.

In the drug store shooting, Robert Aylor, 37, district manager of the drug chain was wounded seriously. Mrs. Jemison had worked at the drug store for 15 years before being fired two months ago. Detectives said they believed Jemison shot the store officials out of revenge.

Arraignment of Jemison in Columbus on two counts of first-degree murder may come Saturday or Monday.

Vote Stand Given For Rep. Wetzel And Sen. Sargus

State Sen. Edmund Sargus voted for one Ohio bill which passed the Senate this week and opposed another which also passed, while State Rep. Clarence Wetzel helped pass a House measure and voted for another which failed.

Sargus supported a bill to permit limited Sunday sale of liquor on local option basis which passed 17-15, and voted against a bill which authorized the state health department to license and regulate plumbers which also passed 17-12.

Rep. Wetzel supported a House bill requiring competitive bidding by political subdivisions in lease - back construction agreements, approved 70-59, and backed another bill to reduce the voting age from 21 to 19 which failed, needing 83 votes and receiving only 71.

No Jingle-Jangle

The soearing demands of industry and specualtion have made the shiny metal almost too precious to use in coins.

Since the U.S. consumption of silver is nearly triple present production from mines, the treasury has been making up the deficit from its stockpiles. At the present rate, the treasury could run out of silver in three years.

To stop the drain, most experts believe there are two practical choices: a substantial reduction in the present 90 per cent silver content of coins or the substitution of cheaper metals, such as copper, cupro-nickel and niobium in some of the coins.

Long treasured as a monetary standard, silver now is primarily an industrial element. The versatile metal goes into the manufacture of everything from electric toasters and television cameras to submarines and guided missiles.

Silver's special properties give it many applications. Silver conducts electricity and heat better than any other metal, and is highest in optical reflectivity.

Except for gold, silver is the most ductile metal. One gram of pure silver can be drawn into a wire a mile long.

Battle Lines Formed On Illinois State Bird

The House Waterways Committee has endorsed, 23-4, a bill to make the purple martin the new state bird.

Rep. John Morris, D-Chadwick, Ill., the principal sponsor of the legislation, says there's nothing sacred about the cardinal.

Rep. Charles Clabaugh, R-Champaign, Ill., objects.

"It offends me that we should change the state bird on the basis of commercialism," he said.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Visiting Children Need Supervision

Repeatedly in this column, I have entreated parents to attract and welcome other people's children into their homes. Doing so helps provide playmates for their children. It also enables parents to study their own children in relation to other children and to help them become better playmates. But your own child may be more excitable and harder to guide and manage then. The visiting child may be there more often and longer than you desire.

Dr. Garry Myers

His own parents may consider your home a place to leave him frequently for their convenience. He may not conform to civil ways of acting, even when his own parents are with him. Appropos is the following letter from a mother in Indiana.

—:—

"THERE ARE many times when extra children must be in my home for a day, a week or more. I sometimes have one child to baby-sit for. Sometimes a child is just visiting for a day. Once I had my sister's son for a week while she was in the hospital.

"Still another nine - year - old has been with us almost since birth for a week to several weeks before going back home again. I always have extra children around and probably always will.

"These children feel upset and out of place anyway; when faced with so many new rules they may not remember or may not try to remember. If I ease up on the rules for them, my children begin acting hurt. They begin tattling every time the smallest rule is broken. Then they may begin to break the same rules and to wait and see if I will do anything about it. They really seem better satisfied if they are scolded or punished as usual.

"SOME parents also bring children in and allow them to walk on expensive furniture and run up and down stairs, even though I have made it clear that our children are not allowed to play in that room or on the stairs."

My reply in part. You report a very common but hard problem. I think you should try to have only a few rules that you're sure are very important and then hold these visiting children to these rules just as you hold your own children to them.

Be exacting. When a child of yours violates these rules, see that he gets a penalty such as staying alone in his room for half an hour or more sitting in a chair for a definite period, unamused, where you can see him. Do try to find more ways to cause the visiting children and your own to have enjoyments together.

About the hardest problem I know of is with the mother who brings a child to your home and lets him run wild. As a rule, I think you should say calmly, "We just don't allow this," even at the risk of losing the friendship of the visiting mother.

I FIND it hard to feel patient with this type of mother. Not many mothers can, in whose home this selfish mother visits and allows her youngster to wreck their home and not lift a hand. They have a right to be incensed.

Why should any mother go visiting with her youngster unless she has educated him at home reasonbly well to be careful of the furniture and other equipment here or has not at least trained him to respect unambiguously the little word NO.

My bulletins, "Your Child and His Playmates," "How to Teach Child Meaning of No," and "Teaching Tot Care of Property," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Congressmen Jumping Into Jumping Frog Test

The attraction is the 100th anniversary observance of Mark Twain's story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," and a $1,000 top prize for the sponsor of the frog breaking the world's record. The jubilee is set for May 20-23 at the Calaveras County Fair.

Members of Congress were invited — in fact, challenged — by Rep. Harold T. Johnson, D-Calif., to enter their jumpiest frogs in a special congressional division event. Johnson warned his colleagues they would be competing against Gold Back, "the outstanding frog in my personal stable."

Rep. John A. Race, D-Wis., claiming to represent the frog capital of the world — Oshkosh, Wis. — acepted the challenge. He bragged that the smallest Wisconsin frog can outjump California's biggest.

Signing himself John (Frog) Race, he entered a frog he named Old 89 in honor of the current 89th Congress.

Not so boastful was Rep. James M. Hanley, D-N.Y., who said: "I can't help leaping at the opportunity to field an entry in your centennial frog race."

Sens. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., and George Murphy, R-Calif., gave what may be the first thoroughbred Kentucky bullfrog ever entered in the annual jubilee a workout Thursday on the Capitol steps.

Murphy was named the jumper Kentucky Ev, because, according to Morton's office, the Californian detects a resemblance to GOP Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois.

The rules say a jockey may not touch a frog after placing it on the canvas at the starting line. But he may "jump up and down, whoop, holler, blow on him, beat on the canvas and-or pray for him to make a move."

The frog is permitted three jumps, the distance from the starting point to the spot on which he lands on the third jump determining the score.

The Calaveras County recognized record is 17 feet 1.5 inches.

Anti-Pollution Program Pushed For Yellow Creek

Jefferson County commissioners today adopted a resolution asking the U. S. Public Health Service to designate the Yellow Creek drainage area as a federal acid mine drainage control demonstration project and to seek federal funds under the Appalachian Regional Development Act.

Commissioner Michael Blischak of Steubenville, who introduced the resolution, said a public meeting is being planned in the Hammondsville area to eliminate pollution of the creek by acid mine drainage.

The Appalachian Act provides financial contributions to states to seal abandoned coal mines. The application for federal funds will be made to the Division of Forestry and Reclamation of the Ohio Department of Natural Resources.

The department's Division of Wildlife also will be asked to expand and accelerate fish and wildlife restoration projects in the Yellow Creek area, the resolution provides.

Blischak's resolution pointed out that Yellow Creek today is practically as nature originally developed it and that the sealing of several abandoned coal mines would substantially remove the acid mine drainage and pollution of the waters.

"The waters of Yellow Creek ought to be crystal clear and sparkling with tall, thick grass growing on the banks; ought to be abundant with a food supply, habitat and other environmental conditions for the propagation, preservation and protection of fish and other wild animals, and ought to serve as a sanctuary and refuge," the resolution declared.

"The area of Yellow Creek has been so richly endowed in unsurpassable scenery and natural resources and has the greatest significant potential for future growth as a recreational area, for sport fishing and a water resource development project," it said.

Minnesota pitchers last season turned in only four shutouts.

Ohio Slayer Of 2 Nabbed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Richard H. Jemison, 56, accused Columbus slayer, was en route back to Ohio today from Pontiac, Ill., where he was captured Wednesday.

Columbus detectives put Jemison into their car at the Livington County, Ill., jail in Pontiac about 8:30 a.m. for the return trip to Columbus.

Illinois authorities said Jemison signed extradition papers and consented to return to Columbus to face charges he killed his wife, Virginia, 49, at the Jeminson home last Monday, and then fatally wounded John Lyman, 36, manager of a Gray Drug store in downtown Columbus.

In the drug store shooting, Robert Aylor, 37, district manager of the drug chain was wounded seriously. Mrs. Jemison had worked at the drug store for 15 years before being fired two months ago. Detectives said they believed Jemison shot the store officials out of revenge.

Arraignment of Jemison in Columbus on two counts of first-degree murder may come Saturday or Monday.

Vote Stand Given For Rep. Wetzel And Sen. Sargus

State Sen. Edmund Sargus voted for one Ohio bill which passed the Senate this week and opposed another which also passed, while State Rep. Clarence Wetzel helped pass a House measure and voted for another which failed.

Sargus supported a bill to permit limited Sunday sale of liquor on local option basis which passed 17-15, and voted against a bill which authorized the state health department to license and regulate plumbers which also passed 17-12.

Rep. Wetzel supported a House bill requiring competitive bidding by political subdivisions in lease - back construction agreements, approved 70-59, and backed another bill to reduce the voting age from 21 to 19 which failed, needing 83 votes and receiving only 71.

No Jingle-Jangle

The soearing demands of industry and specualtion have made the shiny metal almost too precious to use in coins.

Since the U.S. consumption of silver is nearly triple present production from mines, the treasury has been making up the deficit from its stockpiles. At the present rate, the treasury could run out of silver in three years.

To stop the drain, most experts believe there are two practical choices: a substantial reduction in the present 90 per cent silver content of coins or the substitution of cheaper metals, such as copper, cupro-nickel and niobium in some of the coins.

Long treasured as a monetary standard, silver now is primarily an industrial element. The versatile metal goes into the manufacture of everything from electric toasters and television cameras to submarines and guided missiles.

Silver's special properties give it many applications. Silver conducts electricity and heat better than any other metal, and is highest in optical reflectivity.

Except for gold, silver is the most ductile metal. One gram of pure silver can be drawn into a wire a mile long.

Why Not Stay Slim?

"Every time I go off a strict diet I start re - gaining. It's maddening! Sometimes I don't stay reduced long enough to enjoy being slender. Give us the recipe for keeping weight controlled."

Ida Jean Kain

Fair enough. But first, examine your attitude. Do you want to eat to stay slim? It's important to straighten out your thinking while you are reducing. IS your attitude, "I like the feeling of being slim, I wouldn't go back to those fattening food habits for anything!" Or is it, "Do you mean to tell me that I can never have the rich foods I love?"

—:—

YOU CAN have some of the foods you enjoy and stay slim. But you can never go back to overeating with gusto. Are you eager to establish an eating pattern that lets you rule your weight? So much depends on what you really want.

Generally, the dieters who succeed in getting their weight to normal have the best chance of staying slender. Those who reduce only part way tend to slip back. However, even the triumphant diteers have to go through a transition period in which they give first importance to holding the weightline. With this attitude the habit becomes fixed.

In order to reduce, calories must be cut below your requirements. Nature calls on stored fat to make up the calorie deficit. This is the only way stored fat can be used.

On reaching desirable weight, calories can be raised to maintenance level. But keep this factor in mind, for it is important. . .the calorie increase must be very gradual. Experiment. Add 100 calories a day — in a second serving of lean meat, or in a small potato, or fresh fruit. To keep control, never deliberately overeat.

DURING this adjustment period, moderate exercise is your best ally. A daily walk of one or two miles burns enough calories to allow you to eat sufficient food to feel satisfied; a six - minute stretch - bend-swing action keeps the figure controlling muscles toned.

The food pattern which enabled you to slim down is equally effective in helping you to hold the weightline. Continue to build your three meals on the protective foods which furnish vital nutrients, and have a purposeful pickup in the late afternoon.

An understanding doctor wrote this line for dieters: "When you alter your clothes, or buy new clothes, be sure that the dresses or suits fit a little snug so that if you gain you'll feel it. Should the pointer creep up two pounds, take them off . . . then you won't have to cope with 22 pounds."

Realize that if second helpings and rich desserts once caused your weight to soar, it can happen again. Refuse to booby - trap yourself that way! When you resolve to eat to stay slim you develop a built-in slimming system.

Send stamped, self - addressed, long envelope for Revised Calorie Chart. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests can not be answered.

In order to reduce, calories must be cut below your requirements. Nature calls on stored fat to make up the calorie deficit. This is the only way stored fat can be used.

On reaching desirable weight, calories can be raised to maintenance level. But keep this factor in mind, for it is important. . .the calorie increase must be very gradual. Experiment. Add 100 calories a day — in a second serving of lean meat, or in a small potato, or fresh fruit. To keep control, never deliberately overeat.

DURING this adjustment period, moderate exercise is your best ally. A daily walk of one or two miles burns enough calories to allow you to eat sufficient food to feel satisfied; a six - minute stretch - bend-swing action keeps the figure controlling muscles toned.

The food pattern which enabled you to slim down is equally effective in helping you to hold the weightline. Continue to build your three meals on the protective foods which furnish vital nutrients, and have a purposeful pickup in the late afternoon.

An understanding doctor wrote this line for dieters: "When you alter your clothes, or buy new clothes, be sure that the dresses or suits fit a little snug so that if you gain you'll feel it. Should the pointer creep up two pounds, take them off . . . then you won't have to cope with 22 pounds."

Realize that if second helpings and rich desserts once caused your weight to soar, it can happen again. Refuse to booby - trap yourself that way! When you resolve to eat to stay slim you develop a built-in slimming system.

Union-Industries Show To Include Potters' Exhibit

A working exhibit of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will be included in the annual AFL-CIO Union-Industries Show May 21-26 at the Civic Arena in Pittsburgh.

The IBOP exhibit will be under the supervision of three international vice presidents: George Barbaree of Trenton, N. J., Leonard Greco of Beaver Falls and Clyde S. Jones of Alliance.

Potters who will display their craftsmanship for visitors are: Dorothy Mayles of Local 94 in East Liverpool; Vern Robinson of Local 177 in Robinson, Ill.; Hattie Wright of Local 99 in Clarksburg; Jackie Burke of Local 241 in Cambridge and Joseph Galvin of Local 236 at Pomona, N. J.

The IBOP said pottery manufacturers "showed a very fine response" to requests for ware for display at the show. The union also said that the Homer Laughlin China Co. announced any union members or officials visiting the show may make arrangements to tour the dinnerware plant.

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Alliance Athletic Pot Boils . . .

A five-man committee of the Ohio Educational Association, which was called to investigate the boiling athletic situation at Alliance High School, released several recommendations earlier this week.

The committee was called when things began popping in March following the firing of Warren Binder as head basketball coach.

Binder fought the firing and pointed a finger at Mel Knowlton, head football coach and athletic director, claiming Knowlton made the recommendations as to which coaches should be hired. Binder also felt football far overshadowed his basketball program.

According to Ed DeGraw, sports editor of the Alliance Review, the dismissal of Binder split Alliance wide open.

Even though Knowlton has been turning out winning teams for 18 years, including a couple of state championship outfits he has made some enemies.

The anti-Knowlton group stood firmly behind Binder and even students walked out of classes after the school board had made its decision on Binder.

As the battle raged and the anti-Knowlton and anti-Binder groups formed, the Alliance Board of Education summoned the OEA committee to conduct an investigation in an effort to satisfy the citizens, since a bond issue to build a new high school is pending.

The OEA made its recommendations and the Alliance school board can either accept or repect the report.

Recommendations Made . . .

The chief recommendation is that the athletic director's job be divorced from any coaching assignment. The report said "the position of athletic director in the Alliance schools should not include coaching responsibiliteies."

Also recommended was that "the school board should make stronger efforts to bring the athletic program into better balance and perspective."

Knowlton, the veteran coach who has turned out many gridders who have gone on to the college and pro ranks, has been quiet on the issue and has made no statement.

Battistelli Sets 880 Mark . . .

IF THE TRACK program at Kent State University is successful in the future, a former Potter cinder star may have something to do with it.

He is Curt Battistelli, who was the Potter's top trackman a year ago when he raced to a new county and school and stadium record in the half mile.

He continues to set records. Last Saturday Curt set a new freshman half-mile mark with a sizzling 1:54.6.

Curt's time in the freshmen meet was five seconds faster than turned in by Kent's varsity half-miler the same afternoon when Kent defeated West Virginia. The varsity time was 1:59.7.

A pre-med major, Curt is carrying a "B" average in his studies. He received his numerals for cross country in the fall and during the indoor track season established a new freshman record in the 660-yard run in a time of one minute, 13 seconds.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

AMONG the contributors to the Patterson Field Improvement Fund was ex-Potter coach Lou Venditti. Lou is head grid coach at Canton Lincoln, where he has been turning out winning clubs for the past four years.

The campaign will continue and this past week members of several high school clubs conducted a house-to-house solicitation.

The flund is nearing the halfway mark, so those wishing to help should send their donations now.

THE FIRST hole-in-one of the season at the Par 3 course on Route 7 near Williamsport was turned in Wednesday.

Joe Ross of East Liverpool canned the shot on the No. 2 hole, which is 105 yards.

JACK BETTS, the ex-Potter basketball standout, is working back in this area. He is currently associated with the Pancake House on Route 7 near Boardman.

THE ADDITION of permanent bleachers on the east side of Patterson Field will eliminate the baseball field at the West End park. Footers already have been poured for the bleachers.

This will leave the city with only one regulation field, that being the Colt Field off St. Clair Ave. The Colt League of course will take up most of the time on that diamond. This means the city's County League team and the American Legion team have no place to play here.

Debonair Gets Clean Bill Of Health

Derby Star Favored In Field Of 9

BALTIMORE (AP) — All was right today with Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair. He'll start Saturday in the 90th running of the $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico.

Doubt that an inflamed right hind ankle would keep Mrs. Ada L. Rice's colt out of the second event in the bid for the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds was dispelled Thursday after an examination and treatment by a Kentucky veterinarian.

"I'm sure he'll be all right", said Dr. Alex Harthill. "Actually, it is only a very minor thing.

"Lucky burned his heel when he breezed Monday. There was a slight infection due to sand working into the burn and once I removed the scab and cleaned the area, the abrasion should heal promptly. I was delighted to see the horse in such good condition."

"I feel much, much better," said trainer Frank Catrone. "Of course, we still have to run the race. It was only minor but I was worried. Who wouldn't be with any kind of an injury coming so close to a race?"

Lucky Debonair, who beat Ogden Phipps' Dapper Dan by a neck in the Derby, turned up with the swollen ankle Thursday morning a few hours before entries closed for the Preakness.

Told by Dan Rice, husband of Lucky's owner, to use his own judgment, Catrone entered the Derby winner to join eight other 3-year-olds.

Pimlico officials also were happy because the Preakness, without Lucky Debonair, figured to be just another wealthy horse race with the outcome wide open.

Even before Lucky Debonair was given a clean bill of health, the track handicapper made him the 7-5 choice to capture the 1 3-16-mile race, slated to be run under fair skies and temperatures in the mid-70s.

Post time is 4:46 p.m. EST, with the Columbia Broadcasting System televising the race from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

With nine starters the gross value of the race will be $180,600. Of the total, $30,000 is earmarked for second, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth. The remainder goes to the winner, which would be $128,100 with nine starters.

Although Dapper Dan just missed catching Lucky Debonair in the Derby, the Ogden Phipps colt was rated no better than the third choice at 6-1. He lost many supporters with a bad workout Wednesday.

Tom Rolfe, third in the Derby, was 3-1 second choice chiefly because of his fine workout over the Pimlico track early in the week. Flag Raiser was quoted at 5-1 and Native Charger, a disappointing fourth in the Derby was 10-1.

Hail to All, who failed to show his usual stretch kick in the Derby and wound up fifth; Arkansas Derby winner Swift Ruler, seventh at Churchill Downs, and two colts who didn't start in the Derby —Needles' Count and Selari —round out the field.

Koufax Whiffs 13 Astros

Lefty Spins 3-Hit Piece; Bucs Go Down

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"They bathe him in liniment before a game and soak him in ice water after a game, but in between he's still the same Sandy Koufax."

Cincinnati Manager Dick Sisler said it last week — and Koufax proved it against Houston Thursday night with a three-hit, 3-0 triumph wrapped up in a 13-strikeout package for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was the first shutout of the season for the ace Dodger lefthander but the strikeout total was no doubt the most convincing statistic for those who questioned Koufax' ability to pitch effectively every fourth day with the arthritic condition in his elbow.

The 13 strikeouts represented a high for the season in the majors and Koufax' best performance since he fanned 14 in a game against Houston on April 19, 1963. It also returned Koufax to his usual position as the majors' No. 1 strikeout artist with 61 in 54 innings pitched.

While Koufax was taking over the strikeout lead, Willie Mays hit his 11th homer and added two doubles, raising his average to a National League-leading .387 in San Francisco's 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Elsewhere, Joe Torre's fourth single drove in the winning run in Milwaukee's 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh and Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 7-6 in 10 innings when Deron Johnson threw away a bunt by Frank Thomas. The New York Mets and St. Louis were not scheduled.

Koufax, bringing his record to 4-2 while lowering his earned-run average to 2.17, got the only run he needed when Lou Johnson hit his first homer of the season, a solo shot off Houston starter Bob Bruce in the second inning.

Johnson was forced to leave later in the game when he was hit on the helmet by a Bruce fast ball. Johnson was able to walk off the field and the injury did not seem serious.

Mays led an extra-base barrage for the Giants, with Jesus Alou and Tom Haller also contributing homers, Jim Hart smacking a triple and Willie McCovey a double. Seven of the eight San Francisco hits went for extra bases against Ernie Broglio and three successors.

Torre, who lifted his average to .380, drove in a run for the Braves in a three-run sixth-inning rally that tied the score, then clinched it in the eighth inning when he singled home Frank Bolling. Bolling stroked a two-out double and moved around to third on Hank Aaron's infield single.

Gene Alley hit a three-run homer as the Pirates built a short-lived 4-0 lead after two innings.

The Phillies won it in the 10th when Dick Stuart drew a walk off Jim Duffalo and moved around to third on a wild pitch and a grounder. Then, with two out, Thomas laid down a surprise bunt and Johnson pegged it wild, Stuart racing home with the winning run.

Binder fought the firing and pointed a finger at Mel Knowlton, head football coach and athletic director, claiming Knowlton made the recommendations as to which coaches should be hired. Binder also felt football far overshadowed his basketball program.

Even though Knowlton has been turning out winning teams for 18 years, including a couple of state championship outfits he has made some enemies.

The anti-Knowlton group stood firmly behind Binder and even students walked out of classes after the school board had made its decision on Binder.

As the battle raged and the anti-Knowlton and anti-Binder groups formed, the Alliance Board of Education summoned the OEA committee to conduct an investigation in an effort to satisfy the citizens, since a bond issue to build a new high school is pending.

The OEA made its recommendations and the Alliance school board can either accept or repect the report.

Recommendations Made . . .

The chief recommendation is that the athletic director's job be divorced from any coaching assignment. The report said "the position of athletic director in the Alliance schools should not include coaching responsibiliteies."

Also recommended was that "the school board should make stronger efforts to bring the athletic program into better balance and perspective."

Knowlton, the veteran coach who has turned out many gridders who have gone on to the college and pro ranks, has been quiet on the issue and has made no statement.

Battistelli Sets 880 Mark . . .

IF THE TRACK program at Kent State University is successful in the future, a former Potter cinder star may have something to do with it.

He is Curt Battistelli, who was the Potter's top trackman a year ago when he raced to a new county and school and stadium record in the half mile.

He continues to set records. Last Saturday Curt set a new freshman half-mile mark with a sizzling 1:54.6.

Curt's time in the freshmen meet was five seconds faster than turned in by Kent's varsity half-miler the same afternoon when Kent defeated West Virginia. The varsity time was 1:59.7.

A pre-med major, Curt is carrying a "B" average in his studies. He received his numerals for cross country in the fall and during the indoor track season established a new freshman record in the 660-yard run in a time of one minute, 13 seconds.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

AMONG the contributors to the Patterson Field Improvement Fund was ex-Potter coach Lou Venditti. Lou is head grid coach at Canton Lincoln, where he has been turning out winning clubs for the past four years.

The campaign will continue and this past week members of several high school clubs conducted a house-to-house solicitation.

THE ADDITION of permanent bleachers on the east side of Patterson Field will eliminate the baseball field at the West End park. Footers already have been poured for the bleachers.

This will leave the city with only one regulation field, that being the Colt Field off St. Clair Ave. The Colt League of course will take up most of the time on that diamond. This means the city's County League team and the American Legion team have no place to play here.

Wellsburg Blanks ELHS Nine For 21st Victory

The winners jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first inning then scored five runs in the fourth with a triple by Len Leasure, with two mates aboard, the big blow.

The Potters' Jim Hissom, who started on the mound for the Potters, ran into control trouble by walking seven batters. He was charged with the loss. East Liverpool committed five errors.

Derby Star Favored In Field Of 9

BALTIMORE (AP) — All was right today with Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonair. He'll start Saturday in the 90th running of the $150,000-added Preakness at Pimlico.

Doubt that an inflamed right hind ankle would keep Mrs. Ada L. Rice's colt out of the second event in the bid for the Triple Crown for 3-year-olds was dispelled Thursday after an examination and treatment by a Kentucky veterinarian.

"I'm sure he'll be all right", said Dr. Alex Harthill. "Actually, it is only a very minor thing.

"Lucky burned his heel when he breezed Monday. There was a slight infection due to sand working into the burn and once I removed the scab and cleaned the area, the abrasion should heal promptly. I was delighted to see the horse in such good condition."

"I feel much, much better," said trainer Frank Catrone. "Of course, we still have to run the race. It was only minor but I was worried. Who wouldn't be with any kind of an injury coming so close to a race?"

Lucky Debonair, who beat Ogden Phipps' Dapper Dan by a neck in the Derby, turned up with the swollen ankle Thursday morning a few hours before entries closed for the Preakness.

Told by Dan Rice, husband of Lucky's owner, to use his own judgment, Catrone entered the Derby winner to join eight other 3-year-olds.

Pimlico officials also were happy because the Preakness, without Lucky Debonair, figured to be just another wealthy horse race with the outcome wide open.

Even before Lucky Debonair was given a clean bill of health, the track handicapper made him the 7-5 choice to capture the 1 3-16-mile race, slated to be run under fair skies and temperatures in the mid-70s.

Post time is 4:46 p.m. EST, with the Columbia Broadcasting System televising the race from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

With nine starters the gross value of the race will be $180,600. Of the total, $30,000 is earmarked for second, $15,000 for third and $7,500 for fourth. The remainder goes to the winner, which would be $128,100 with nine starters.

Although Dapper Dan just missed catching Lucky Debonair in the Derby, the Ogden Phipps colt was rated no better than the third choice at 6-1. He lost many supporters with a bad workout Wednesday.

Tom Rolfe, third in the Derby, was 3-1 second choice chiefly because of his fine workout over the Pimlico track early in the week. Flag Raiser was quoted at 5-1 and Native Charger, a disappointing fourth in the Derby was 10-1.

Hail to All, who failed to show his usual stretch kick in the Derby and wound up fifth; Arkansas Derby winner Swift Ruler, seventh at Churchill Downs, and two colts who didn't start in the Derby —Needles' Count and Selari —round out the field.

Koufax Whiffs 13 Astros

Lefty Spins 3-Hit Piece; Bucs Go Down

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

"They bathe him in liniment before a game and soak him in ice water after a game, but in between he's still the same Sandy Koufax."

Cincinnati Manager Dick Sisler said it last week — and Koufax proved it against Houston Thursday night with a three-hit, 3-0 triumph wrapped up in a 13-strikeout package for the Los Angeles Dodgers.

It was the first shutout of the season for the ace Dodger lefthander but the strikeout total was no doubt the most convincing statistic for those who questioned Koufax' ability to pitch effectively every fourth day with the arthritic condition in his elbow.

The 13 strikeouts represented a high for the season in the majors and Koufax' best performance since he fanned 14 in a game against Houston on April 19, 1963. It also returned Koufax to his usual position as the majors' No. 1 strikeout artist with 61 in 54 innings pitched.

The liniment swabbing is routine before a game, the soaking in ice is routine after a game, and the side-armed curve balls he used to throw against lefthanded batters have been taken out of his act.

But there's little doubt it's still a first-rate show.

While Koufax was taking over the strikeout lead, Willie Mays hit his 11th homer and added two doubles, raising his average to a National League-leading .387 in San Francisco's 6-3 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Elsewhere, Joe Torre's fourth single drove in the winning run in Milwaukee's 5-4 victory over Pittsburgh and Philadelphia edged Cincinnati 7-6 in 10 innings when Deron Johnson threw away a bunt by Frank Thomas. The New York Mets and St. Louis were not scheduled.

Koufax, bringing his record to 4-2 while lowering his earned-run average to 2.17, got the only run he needed when Lou Johnson hit his first homer of the season, a solo shot off Houston starter Bob Bruce in the second inning.

Johnson was forced to leave later in the game when he was hit on the helmet by a Bruce fast ball. Johnson was able to walk off the field and the injury did not seem serious.

Mays led an extra-base barrage for the Giants, with Jesus Alou and Tom Haller also contributing homers, Jim Hart smacking a triple and Willie McCovey a double. Seven of the eight San Francisco hits went for extra bases against Ernie Broglio and three successors.

Torre, who lifted his average to .380, drove in a run for the Braves in a three-run sixth-inning rally that tied the score, then clinched it in the eighth inning when he singled home Frank Bolling. Bolling stroked a two-out double and moved around to third on Hank Aaron's infield single.

Gene Alley hit a three-run homer as the Pirates built a short-lived 4-0 lead after two innings.

The Phillies won it in the 10th when Dick Stuart drew a walk off Jim Duffalo and moved around to third on a wild pitch and a grounder. Then, with two out, Thomas laid down a surprise bunt and Johnson pegged it wild, Stuart racing home with the winning run.

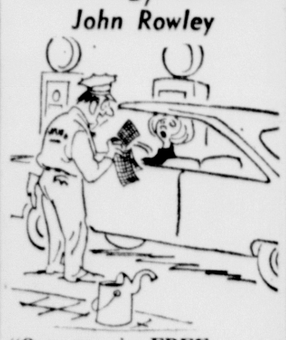

DENNIS MENKE, Brave's shortstop, rolls in pain after slamming into Pirate catcher Jim Pagliaroni at home plate in the fourth inning of Thursday night's game at Pittsburgh. The umpire is Ed Vargo. (UPI Telephoto)

Boston Hands Yankees 9th Defeat In Last 12

White Sox Move Into First Place

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two weeks ago Detroit's Willie Horton couldn't breathe. Now he's got American League pitchers gasping for air.

The young outfielder, who underwent surgery for the removal of growths from his nose early this month, slammed two home runs and a double, driving in five runs Thursday night as the Tigers routed Washington 13-3.

The victory completed a three-game sweep for Detroit and Horton's eight hits in 13 swings for the series rocketed him into fourth place in the American League batting race with a .345 average. He slammed four homers and drove in 10 runs against the Senators in the three games.

"I've been feeling a little woozy because of my nose operation," Horton said. "But I've been drinking a lot of juice and I'll be strong again."

Horton followed Al Kaline's two-run homer with a solo shot off reliever Pete Richert in the second and then exploded a three-run blast against Jim Duckworth in the fourth. Willie doubled home another run in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the AL, New York lost its ninth game in the last 12, 4-1 to Boston. Baltimore edged Cleveland 3-2, Los Angeles nipped Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings and Chicago downed Kansas City 6-3.

Horton's hitting surge has given him five homers and 12 runs batted in for seven games following his operation.

The Tigers' lusty hitting made Hank Aguirre's fourth victory without a loss easy. Aguirre permitted seven hits including a homer by Doug Camilli.

Yankee Manager Johnny Keane hoped Whitey Ford could halt the Yankee slide but the veteran left-hander was tagged for a bases-loaded triple by Felix Mantilla in a four-run Boston third and Dave Morehead made the lead stand up.

Boog Powell slammed an eighth-inning homer off reliever Luis Tiant, giving the Orioles their victory. Tiant's first pitch to Powell was ruled a ball by plate umpire Bill Haller, who said the Indian pitcher's jerky, hesitation move was illegal.

Tiant didn't hesitate on his next pitch and neither did Powell. The Oriole left fielder's fourth homer of the year snapped a 2-2 tie and gave Milt Pappas his 100th major league decision.

The Angels pushed across a run in the 10th inning and snapped a five-game Minnesota winning string. Coston Shockley's two-run homer off Camilo Pascual tied it in the seventh and Willie Smith's infield single delivered the winning run in the 10th.

The White Sox bunched four hits, a walk, an error and a wild pitch for four runs in the second inning with J. C. Martin's single and Danny Cater's double the key hits. Gary Peters, with ninth-inning help from Eddie Fisher, won his third against two setbacks.

500 Drivers Bid For Pole In Trial Run

By RON GILBERT

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — More than a dozen cars may be ready to bid Saturday for the pole position in the 500-mile race to be run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 31.

A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., who won the 1964 race, and Jim Clark of Duns, Scotland, who set the qualification records a year ago, appear to be the top contenders, but they should have plenty of competition.

Foyt, Clark, former champion Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., and rookie Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., all have been above Clark's qualification records of 159.377 for one lap and 158.828 for the four-lap run.

Jones' best lap was turned at 159.57. Andretti climbed to 159.5. Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., getting on the track Thursday for the first time this year, hit 159.

Qualifications will continue Sunday and May 22-23. However, the first-day qualifiers will start the race at the head of the pack, except for those that may be "bumped" from the line-up by faster cars. Only the 33 fastest cars in the four days of the trials will start.

The fastest qualifier Saturday will start on the pole — the inside position in the three-car front row. The second-and third-fastest will fill the front row, and the others will line up behind in the order of their qualifying speeds, three cars to a row.

Sunday's qualifiers will come next, followed by the groups that qualify next weekend. After 33 cars have qualified the bumping starts, and the slowest car in the tentative line-up comes out when a faster car qualifies.

NEW YORK (AP) — It's official now that Dennis Ralston, America's No. 1 tennis player, won't play against the Canadians in the North American Zone Davis Cup competition in his home town of Bakersfield, Calif., June 4-5-6.

The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Thursday named a four-man team headed by Chuck McKinley of Port Washington, N.Y. The others are Arthur Ashe Jr., the No. 3 from Richmond, Va., and UCLA; Gene Scott, No. 5 from St. James, N.Y., and 10th ranked Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill.

Ralston was suspended by non-playing captain George MacCall of Los Angeles last month for pulling out of the doubles, after he had been eliminated in singles, at the River Oaks tournament in Houston.

Ralston said he withdrew because he felt he was "over-tennised and wanted to go home."

Boston Hands Yankees 9th Defeat In Last 12

White Sox Move Into First Place

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two weeks ago Detroit's Willie Horton couldn't breathe. Now he's got American League pitchers gasping for air.

The young outfielder, who underwent surgery for the removal of growths from his nose early this month, slammed two home runs and a double, driving in five runs Thursday night as the Tigers routed Washington 13-3.

The victory completed a three-game sweep for Detroit and Horton's eight hits in 13 swings for the series rocketed him into fourth place in the American League batting race with a .345 average. He slammed four homers and drove in 10 runs against the Senators in the three games.

"I've been feeling a little woozy because of my nose operation," Horton said. "But I've been drinking a lot of juice and I'll be strong again."

Horton followed Al Kaline's two-run homer with a solo shot off reliever Pete Richert in the second and then exploded a three-run blast against Jim Duckworth in the fourth. Willie doubled home another run in the sixth.

Elsewhere in the AL, New York lost its ninth game in the last 12, 4-1 to Boston. Baltimore edged Cleveland 3-2, Los Angeles nipped Minnesota 4-3 in 10 innings and Chicago downed Kansas City 6-3.

Horton's hitting surge has given him five homers and 12 runs batted in for seven games following his operation.

The Tigers' lusty hitting made Hank Aguirre's fourth victory without a loss easy. Aguirre permitted seven hits including a homer by Doug Camilli.

Yankee Manager Johnny Keane hoped Whitey Ford could halt the Yankee slide but the veteran left-hander was tagged for a bases-loaded triple by Felix Mantilla in a four-run Boston third and Dave Morehead made the lead stand up.

Morehead, who had lost three straight, fired a five-hitter as the eighth-place Yankees dipped below the .400 mark.

Boog Powell slammed an eighth-inning homer off reliever Luis Tiant, giving the Orioles their victory. Tiant's first pitch to Powell was ruled a ball by plate umpire Bill Haller, who said the Indian pitcher's jerky, hesitation move was illegal.

Tiant didn't hesitate on his next pitch and neither did Powell. The Oriole left fielder's fourth homer of the year snapped a 2-2 tie and gave Milt Pappas his 100th major league decision.

The Angels pushed across a run in the 10th inning and snapped a five-game Minnesota winning string. Coston Shockley's two-run homer off Camilo Pascual tied it in the seventh and Willie Smith's infield single delivered the winning run in the 10th.

The White Sox bunched four hits, a walk, an error and a wild pitch for four runs in the second inning with J. C. Martin's single and Danny Cater's double the key hits. Gary Peters, with ninth-inning help from Eddie Fisher, won his third against two setbacks.

500 Drivers Bid For Pole In Trial Run

By RON GILBERT

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — More than a dozen cars may be ready to bid Saturday for the pole position in the 500-mile race to be run at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway May 31.

A. J. Foyt of Houston, Tex., who won the 1964 race, and Jim Clark of Duns, Scotland, who set the qualification records a year ago, appear to be the top contenders, but they should have plenty of competition.

Foyt hit the high speed of the season in practice Thursday with an unofficial 161 miles an hour for his fastest lap. Clark was caught at 160.142.

Foyt, Clark, former champion Parnelli Jones of Torrance, Calif., and rookie Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., all have been above Clark's qualification records of 159.377 for one lap and 158.828 for the four-lap run.

Jones' best lap was turned at 159.57. Andretti climbed to 159.5. Dan Gurney of Costa Mesa, Calif., getting on the track Thursday for the first time this year, hit 159.

Qualifications will continue Sunday and May 22-23. However, the first-day qualifiers will start the race at the head of the pack, except for those that may be "bumped" from the line-up by faster cars. Only the 33 fastest cars in the four days of the trials will start.

The fastest qualifier Saturday will start on the pole — the inside position in the three-car front row. The second-and third-fastest will fill the front row, and the others will line up behind in the order of their qualifying speeds, three cars to a row.

Sunday's qualifiers will come next, followed by the groups that qualify next weekend. After 33 cars have qualified the bumping starts, and the slowest car in the tentative line-up comes out when a faster car qualifies.

NEW YORK (AP) — It's official now that Dennis Ralston, America's No. 1 tennis player, won't play against the Canadians in the North American Zone Davis Cup competition in his home town of Bakersfield, Calif., June 4-5-6.

The U.S. Lawn Tennis Association Thursday named a four-man team headed by Chuck McKinley of Port Washington, N.Y. The others are Arthur Ashe Jr., the No. 3 from Richmond, Va., and UCLA; Gene Scott, No. 5 from St. James, N.Y., and 10th ranked Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill.

Ralston was suspended by non-playing captain George MacCall of Los Angeles last month for pulling out of the doubles, after he had been eliminated in singles, at the River Oaks tournament in Houston.

Ralston said he withdrew because he felt he was "over-tennised and wanted to go home."

Patterson Big Favorite In Battle With Herring

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Floyd Patterson, cautiously, carefully making his way along the long, long road back, is expected to take another step, a relatively easy one, tonight.

"You had better be careful about any fighter," the two-time heavyweight champion said of his opponent, unranked Tod Herring of Houston Tex.

"Every fight is a risk.

"But I am confident, of course."

Patterson, the only man to have won and lost the heavyweight championship twice, is heavily favored in this, his fifth fight since two humiliating one-round defeats by Sonny Liston.

He has won them all, including two fights in Sweden, a country where he is enormously popular. His popularity dates back to his three fights with Sweden's Ingemar Johansson when he lost, regained and retained the championship.

In Sweden, the 6-foot New Yorker knocked out Italian Sante Amonti Jan. 6, 1964, then beat Eddie Machen in a 12-round match last July. He also has knocked out Charley Powell in San Juan and scored a decision over Canadian George Chuvalo in a February bout that sold out Madison Square Garden.

Patterson said he hopes to return to the United States in time to see the heavyweight title bout between current champion Cassius Clay and Liston in Lewiston, Maine May 25, a bout that could have a great deal of bearing on his next opponent.

He said that if Clay wins he, Patterson, has been promised the next shot at the title.

If Liston wins, Edvin Ahlquist, former adviser to Johansson and now the principal promoter in Sweden, hopes to match Patterson with a major opponent in Stockholm.

First, however, Patterson must get by Herring. But the 10-round bout is regarded as little more than a tune-up.

The 27-year-old Herring has a 26-3 record with 19 knockouts. But he has been stopped by Tony Alongi and Zora Folley.

Marine Stove Adds To Boating Fun

By JOHN BOHANNAN

All hands are hungry aboard a boat. Fresh air and exercise sharpen appetites to such an edge that something must be done to provide good, hot meals at the usual intervals.

The size of the boat has nothing to do with this problem. You can get just as hungry in a 16-footer as in a 40-footer.

The smallest boat we ever cooked aboard was a 16-foot Snipe class sloop. The equipment was crude and overly simple, you might think, but the results were delicious.

WE WOULD anchor in a quiet cove, place a small aluminum plate on the cockpit sole and erect a tiny, folding single-burner canned fuel stove on the plate. The cooking utensils consisted of one small sauce pan and one large spoon.

First the pan was filled with water, boiled and poured over tea balls in paper heat cups. Next we filled the same pan with canned soup, heated and served in paper cups with throw - away spoons. The next course, canned wieners and baked beans, was heated in the same pan and served on paper plates.

Even though there was no gasoline aboard this boat, we wouldn't use such a portable stove today because safety regulations require that stoves be of approved types, and that they be securely fastened down in a clear position not too close to any flammable material. By far the best all - around stove for small craft is the standard type of alcohol marine stove with one or two burners.

THERE ARE two reasons why alcohol is the preferred fuel. First, it's relatively safe. An alcohol fire can be put out with plain water or a damp cloth.

Alcohol is a clean fuel. It has little odor, and will not leave grease spots on clothing or fabric. It can be obtained easily at any port.

When using an alcohol stove, avoid over - filling the primer cup. This will prevent the flaming liquid from spilling over and starting a fire. Keep water and fire extinguisher handy. Don't fill tank while stove is lighted.

Although the usual guard rails will keep utensils from going adrift when the boat rocks from moderate harbor waves, owners of larger boats with permanent galleys will find cooking under way easier by attaching four lengths of coiled door springs both ways across the guard rails to hold a coffee pot or sauce pan in position.

A divided skillet is great for a boat, allowing eggs, bacon and potatoes to be cooked at the same time. Spoon off excess grease to avoid fire - hazardous accumulations. Nesting pans also will be found convenient because they require so little stowage space.

It will taste better than the most expensive dinner ashore!

Questions And Answers

Q. — I don't have enough locker space for canned goods aboard my boat. Can you think of any place I might have overlooked?

A. — You can stow cans in the bilge if you will remove the paper labels and mark them with a grease pencil. Keep the bilge clean and free from oily deposit.

Q. — What's a good way to protect a mahogany bulkhead from the heat of a galley stove?

A. — A metal - faced asbestos board, of the kind sold for home kitchen use, can be drilled at the four corners and screwed to the bulkhead near the stove, using heavy brass washers under the board to space it away from the wood. This will allow air to circulate between the asbestos and the wood and prevent trapping any moisture which could cause rot.

Shotput Standout Matson Heads Los Angeles Event

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Amazing Randy Matson of shot-put fame and a brilliant array of college relay teams go into action tonight in the 25th annual Coliseum Relays.

The 20-year-old Texas A&M sophomore is by all odds the main attraction, thanks to again shattering the listed and his own pending world record with a throw of 70 feet, 7 inches last Saturday.

And watching him tonight will be Parry O'Brien, the first to break the then "impossible" 60-foot barrier 11 years ago.

Performing a week ago on the A&M field at College Station, Matson bettered the listed world mark of 67-10 held by Dallas Long on four of his six puts.

Stanford University's new world record breakers in the 440-yard relay are entered, along with quartets from Villanova, Grambling, Texas Southern, North Carolina, New Mexico, San Jose State and UCLA.

Ohio U. Coach Eyes 300th Baseball Win

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—If Ohio University wins its 15th straight baseball game today, it will be more than a big step toward the Mid-American Conference title.

It'll be the 300th coaching victory for Bob Wren, who has compiled a 299-105 mark including 39 victories in 41 games over the past two seasons at Ohio University.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, May 14, the 134th day of 1965. There are 231 days left in the year.

On this date in 1804, Capts. Meriwether Lewis and William Clark pushed off on the Missouri River to reach the Pacific Ocean overland. The two Army engineers and their party acquired the first real knowledge of what the United States had obtained in the Louisiana Purchase.

On this date:

In 1861, Gen. George McLellan was made commander of the Army's Department of the Ohio.

In 1915, the U.S. Secret Service was authorized to investigate violations of neutrality.

In 1945, American Army, Navy and Marine planes raided the atoll of Jaluit in the Marshall Islands.

Ten years ago— Russia, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and East Germany signed a 20-year treaty of mutual defense—better known as the Warsaw Pact.

Five years ago—Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Paris for a summit conference which he broke off several days later over the U2 spy plane incident.

3 Deadlocked In 1st Round At N. Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Golf is just another job to Gene Littler — not a dedication — but the 34-year-old former National Open champion is bidding today to end a three-year victory drought.

The smooth-swinging pro, who plays out of Las Vegas, grabbed a piece of the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open with a seven-under-par 65 Thursday.

Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Masters six weeks ago, joined him at the front of the field of 145 along with Bill Martindale, a PGA tourist for slightly more than a year.

Littler, once considered the most promising prospect on the play-for-pay circuit, admits he doesn't have the burning ambition of Arnold Palmer or Nicklaus.

"I prefer to spend more time with my family," said the 5-foot-9 Californian who turned pro 11 years ago after capturing the National Amateur crown.

Victory has eluded him since the 1962 Thunderbird.

Nicklaus, the 6-1 choice to walk away with the $20,000 first prize here, was barely in the club house Thursday with his 65 — a competitive course record — when Littler matched it. Martindale holed a 30-foot birdie putt on his final hole to tie them.

Palmer, who ended a slump two weeks ago by capturing the Tournament of Champions, had putting troubles and wound up with a 73.

Par took a beating as 62 players turned in sub-par cards. It was the most under-regulation scores for an opening round in any tourney this year.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols and six others shot 67s. Defending champion Mason Rudolph had a 71, along with 12 others, and Bruce Crampton a 73.

Hull Presented NHL Award For Sportsmanship

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull, the Chicago Black Hawks' dynamic left wing, is the National Hockey League's Lady Byng Trophy winner for the 1964-65 season.

Hull, who was named left wing on the NHL All-Star team last week, outdistanced Detroit's Alex Delvecchio as the player who best combined effective play with sportsmanlike conduct on the ice.

The trophy, won last year by Chicago's Ken Wharram, carries with it a bonus of $1,000 from the league. It was awarded on the basis of voting by sportswriters and sportscasters in the six league cities.

Hull had 71 scoring points and 32 minutes in penalties. His penalty total was the highest for any Lady Byng winner since Billy Burch of the New York Americans won the award with 40 minutes in 1926-27.

Crackdown Intensified Wheeling Gambling

WHEELING (AP) — Intensification of the crackdown on gambling in Ohio County has been pledged by Prosecutor Arch W. Riley.

Riley said Thursday arrangements have been made to "move more state troopers into the area . . . and seek jail sentences" for persons convicted of anti-gambling law violations.

The prosecutor said beginning June 1 "we are going to play rougher and rougher."

Riley has promised that by June 30 all gambling devices, including those in private clubs, will be removed from the coun-

Marine Stove Adds To Boating Fun

By JOHN BOHANNAN

All hands are hungry aboard a boat. Fresh air and exercise sharpen appetites to such an edge that something must be done to provide good, hot meals at the usual intervals.

The size of the boat has nothing to do with this problem. You can get just as hungry in a 16-footer as in a 40-footer.

The smallest boat we ever cooked aboard was a 16-foot Snipe class sloop. The equipment was crude and overly simple, you might think, but the results were delicious.

WE WOULD anchor in a quiet cove, place a small aluminum plate on the cockpit sole and erect a tiny, folding single-burner canned fuel stove on the plate. The cooking utensils consisted of one small sauce pan and one large spoon.

First the pan was filled with water, boiled and poured over tea balls in paper heat cups. Next we filled the same pan with canned soup, heated and served in paper cups with throw - away spoons. The next course, canned wieners and baked beans, was heated in the same pan and served on paper plates.

Even though there was no gasoline aboard this boat, we wouldn't use such a portable stove today because safety regulations require that stoves be of approved types, and that they be securely fastened down in a clear position not too close to any flammable material. By far the best all - around stove for small craft is the standard type of alcohol marine stove with one or two burners.

A marine stove must be permanently and securely attached to a solid surface, and the stove covered with canvas or plastic when not in use.

THERE ARE two reasons why alcohol is the preferred fuel. First, it's relatively safe. An alcohol fire can be put out with plain water or a damp cloth.

Alcohol is a clean fuel. It has little odor, and will not leave grease spots on clothing or fabric. It can be obtained easily at any port.

When using an alcohol stove, avoid over - filling the primer cup. This will prevent the flaming liquid from spilling over and starting a fire. Keep water and fire extinguisher handy. Don't fill tank while stove is lighted.

Never use a gasoline stove or a charcoal grill aboard a boat.

Before purchasing or installing a marine stove, first check with your insurance agent or the National Fire Protection Association, 60 Batterymarch St., Boston, Mass., 02110.

Although the usual guard rails will keep utensils from going adrift when the boat rocks from moderate harbor waves, owners of larger boats with permanent galleys will find cooking under way easier by attaching four lengths of coiled door springs both ways across the guard rails to hold a coffee pot or sauce pan in position.

A divided skillet is great for a boat, allowing eggs, bacon and potatoes to be cooked at the same time. Spoon off excess grease to avoid fire - hazardous accumulations. Nesting pans also will be found convenient because they require so little stowage space.

Shotput Standout Matson Heads Los Angeles Event

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Amazing Randy Matson of shot-put fame and a brilliant array of college relay teams go into action tonight in the 25th annual Coliseum Relays.

The 20-year-old Texas A&M sophomore is by all odds the main attraction, thanks to again shattering the listed and his own pending world record with a throw of 70 feet, 7 inches last Saturday.

And watching him tonight will be Parry O'Brien, the first to break the then "impossible" 60-foot barrier 11 years ago.

Performing a week ago on the A&M field at College Station, Matson bettered the listed world mark of 67-10 held by Dallas Long on four of his six puts.

Special markings have been made stretching out 72 feet from the putting ring in anticipation of possible new heroics by Matson.

Stanford University's new world record breakers in the 440-yard relay are entered, along with quartets from Villanova, Grambling, Texas Southern, North Carolina, New Mexico, San Jose State and UCLA.

Ohio U. Coach Eyes 300th Baseball Win

ATHENS, Ohio (AP)—If Ohio University wins its 15th straight baseball game today, it will be more than a big step toward the Mid-American Conference title.

It'll be the 300th coaching victory for Bob Wren, who has compiled a 299-105 mark including 39 victories in 41 games over the past two seasons at Ohio University.

3 Deadlocked In 1st Round At N. Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Golf is just another job to Gene Littler — not a dedication — but the 34-year-old former National Open champion is bidding today to end a three-year victory drought.

The smooth-swinging pro, who plays out of Las Vegas, grabbed a piece of the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open with a seven-under-par 65 Thursday.

Jack Nicklaus, winner of the Masters six weeks ago, joined him at the front of the field of 145 along with Bill Martindale, a PGA tourist for slightly more than a year.

Littler, once considered the most promising prospect on the play-for-pay circuit, admits he doesn't have the burning ambition of Arnold Palmer or Nicklaus.

"I prefer to spend more time with my family," said the 5-foot-9 Californian who turned pro 11 years ago after capturing the National Amateur crown.

Victory has eluded him since the 1962 Thunderbird.

Nicklaus, the 6-1 choice to walk away with the $20,000 first prize here, was barely in the club house Thursday with his 65 — a competitive course record — when Littler matched it. Martindale holed a 30-foot birdie putt on his final hole to tie them.

Palmer, who ended a slump two weeks ago by capturing the Tournament of Champions, had putting troubles and wound up with a 73.

Par took a beating as 62 players turned in sub-par cards. It was the most under-regulation scores for an opening round in any tourney this year.

Tour rookie Homero Blancas, playing in his third circuit event as a pro, and Dick Crawford, had 66s.

PGA champion Bobby Nichols and six others shot 67s. Defending champion Mason Rudolph had a 71, along with 12 others, and Bruce Crampton a 73.

Hull Presented NHL Award For Sportsmanship

MONTREAL (AP) — Bobby Hull, the Chicago Black Hawks' dynamic left wing, is the National Hockey League's Lady Byng Trophy winner for the 1964-65 season.

Hull, who was named left wing on the NHL All-Star team last week, outdistanced Detroit's Alex Delvecchio as the player who best combined effective play with sportsmanlike conduct on the ice.

The trophy, won last year by Chicago's Ken Wharram, carries with it a bonus of $1,000 from the league. It was awarded on the basis of voting by sportswriters and sportscasters in the six league cities.

Hull had 71 scoring points and 32 minutes in penalties. His penalty total was the highest for any Lady Byng winner since Billy Burch of the New York Americans won the award with 40 minutes in 1926-27.

Crackdown Intensified Wheeling Gambling

WHEELING (AP — Intensification of the crackdown on gambling in Ohio County has been pledged by Prosecutor Arch W. Riley.

Riley said Thursday arrangements have been made to "move more state troopers into the area . . . and seek jail sentences" for persons convicted of anti-gambling law violations.

The prosecutor said beginning June 1 "we are going to play rougher and rougher."

Riley has promised that by June 30 all gambling devices, including those in private clubs, will be removed from the coun-

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, May 14, the 134th day of 1965. There are 231 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1804, Capts. Meriwether Lewis and William Clark pushed off on the Missouri River to reach the Pacific Ocean overland. The two Army engineers and their party acquired the first real knowledge of what the United States had obtained in the Louisiana Purchase.

On this date:

In 1861, Gen. George McLellan was made commander of the Army's Department of the Ohio.

In 1915, the U.S. Secret Service was authorized to investigate violations of neutrality.

In 1940, Nazi bombers poured death and destruction on Rotterdam.

In 1945, American Army, Navy and Marine planes raided the atoll of Jaluit in the Marshall Islands.

Ten years ago— Russia, Albania, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and East Germany signed a 20-year treaty of mutual defense—better known as the Warsaw Pact.

Five years ago—Premier Nikita Khrushchev arrived in Paris for a summit conference which he broke off several days later over the U2 spy plane incident.

Eaton Reported Planning To Deal With Hungarians

CLEVELAND (AP)—A corporation headed by Cyrus Eaton Jr. has worked out a series of tentative business deals with Hungarian officials, including plans for a $6 million hotel in Budapest, the Plain Dealer reported today.

Plans for the joint American-Hungarian hotel project and import - export agreements were worked out by officials of Tower International, Inc., the Plain Dealer said in a copyright story. Eaton is chairman of Tower International, and his father, a multi - millionaire industrialist, has long advocated closer economic ties with Iron Curtain countries.

The elder Eaton was quoted as saying:

"The Tower International investment in Hungary is in line with recommendations for promoting East - West trade that were made to President Johnson by a high-level committee last week. It is the same policy which I have been advocating for 10 years."

OK Corral Wasn't OK For Youngsters

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Weidner welcomed several young visitors to the OK Corral, which he manages.

"Was the Lone Ranger in the fight?"

Eaton Reported Planning To Deal With Hungarians

CLEVELAND (AP)—A corporation headed by Cyrus Eaton Jr. has worked out a series of tentative business deals with Hungarian officials, including plans for a $6 million hotel in Budapest, the Plain Dealer reported today.

Plans for the joint American-Hungarian hotel project and import - export agreements were worked out by officials of Tower International, Inc., the Plain Dealer said in a copyright story. Eaton is chairman of Tower International, and his father, a multi - millionaire industrialist, has long advocated closer economic ties with Iron Curtain countries.

The elder Eaton was quoted as saying:

"The Tower International investment in Hungary is in line with recommendations for promoting East - West trade that were made to President Johnson by a high-level committee last week. It is the same policy which I have been advocating for 10 years."

OK Corral Wasn't OK For Youngsters

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (AP) — Frank Weidner welcomed several young visitors to the OK Corral, which he manages.

Before stepping into the spot where Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday shot it out with the Clanton brothers, one of the boys asked:

"Was the Lone Ranger in the fight?"

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q.—How can I remove scratches from silverware?

A.—Procure a small quantity of putty powder, put this into a saucer and add just enough olive oil to make a paste. Rub this paste on your silver with a soft flannel cloth, then polish with a chamois, and your scratches should be obliterated.

Q.—What can I do about bluing spots on white materials?

A.—Bluings differ chemically, and any spots due to them require different treatments. Cold water is a general method. Dampening the spot with alcohol before laundering will usually remove the stain.

A.—One very good one is made by melting powdered alum in a spoon over a gas flame. While this is still soft, rub the melted alum over the edges of the two pieces you want to stick together, then press together, and let dry. Such mended dishes can be washed in hot water, too.

Q.—How can I clean embroidery on an article that cannot be laundered?

A.—Cover it with a thick paste of alcohol and powdered chalk, roll up and lay away in a dark place for a few days, then brush off the dry chalk.

Q.—Can you suggest a way I can remedy the faded and worn appearance at the seams of a carpet?

Junior Editors Quiz on ORANGES

QUESTION: How come some oranges have seeds and others don't?

ANSWER: The oranges we find in the markets are mainly of two main kinds — those from California, often called eating oranges, and those from Florida, frequently spoken of as juice oranges. Both are delicious fruit. With the eating kind of orange, a slice of which Ralph is holding, it is naturally attractive to have few or no seeds, whereas in the juice type the number of seeds is not so important. As a result, we find many seedless oranges coming from California. But how can one control an orange tree to produce seedless oranges?

There is much variation in the number of seeds inside oranges. Some have many, some few or none. Orange trees can grow from seeds, but the seeds will not always breed true. A tree with very desirable fruit might have seeds producing poor trees. Consequently, fruit growers do not raise trees from seed but use another method called bud grafting, which enables them to produce seedless oranges. A bud from a tree whose oranges are naturally seedless is cut with a silver of wood attached (1.) This is inserted in the "rootstock" of another small, growing orange tree, often of the bitter orange variety, because they are resistant to disease. The sweet orange bud grows up into a tree; the bitter orange branches are trimmed off. So we have a new tree with seedless oranges.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Peel a seedless type orange and slice it evenly as Ralph has done. This is such a neat way of eating oranges that you can concentrate on what a delicious taste they have.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I know people who read your column even though they don't read one other thing. Will you kindly print this letter for the benefit of mothers whose young children must wear glasses?

Do people think that just because a child has an eye problem he is also deaf? My son is 7 years of age. He recently had surgery on his eyes and now he must wear glasses.

Although the boy has worn the glasses for only two weeks, already the following remarks have been made in his presence:

"Does your son mind wearing glasses? I had to wear those blamed things when I was a child and I hated them."

Also: "What a pity! Do the kids at school call him four-eyes?"

And this: "Isn't it sad that the boy has to wear glasses? Whenever I see a youngster with those ugly things on it just breaks my heart."

This morning a man at the bus stop offered this: "I'll bet that kid will keep you broke fixing his glasses. Mine used to break every other week."

Not one child has made an unkind or thoughtless remark. It's only adults who don't know better. Can you come up with something a mother can say to these stupid oafs?—CALIFORNIA.

Dear Calif: Try this: "We are very proud of Johnny. He understands it's important that he wear his glasses and that he take care of them. And now let's talk about something else."

Regrets Choice

Dear Ann: I'm 23. Two years ago I met a nice fellow named Dale. He was doing graduate work. I found him interesting and pleasant. Dale spoke very little about his family and his early life. He said he came from an average home and that his parents were good, middle-class people.

At the same time I was dating Dale I was going with Gene—a boy I had known all my life. Gene's background and family is similar to mine—not rich, not poor—just medium.

Things became complicated dating two fellows. I began to think seriously about marriage and decided it was time to choose between Dale and Gene. I chose Gene. We were not officially engaged but close. Dale was hurt but said nothing.

Recently my parents visited Dale's home town. When they returned they told me Dale's family is considered the cream of society and that they are extremely wealthy.

I'm furious with Dale for deceiving me. Mother says he was smart to play it cool and protect himself against fortune hunters. I feel it is just as bad to be an heir to wealth and pretend to be average as it is to be average and pretend to be wealthy. Who is right?—GRETTA.

Dear Gretta: I have a strange feeling you are furious with yourself for not having latched onto Dale, now that you know he is loaded.

He is a pretty smart boy not to have waved the long green before your eyes. Boys who "accidentally" drop a word about the family chateau in Switzerland or the stables behind the house sometimes get girls who are $earching for $omething be$ides love.

Confidentially

TO IT IS RESPECTABLE: Any honest employment is respectable. People are sometimes not respectable. This type of work does attract tramps but no girl needs to be a tramp just because she does this type of work.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Here is a wedding gift idea that will eliminate the possibility of duplicating any other gift the bride and groom might receive.

Buy a colorful plastic bucket and fill it with the following 20 items:

A card or box of thumbtacks, an extension cord, some cup hooks, card or box of carpet tacks, kitchen tongs, small can opener, bottle opener, dishcloth and nylon net.

I think you'll agree, these are common items that all young newlyweds need.

MRS. D. L. P.

Dear Gals: This is a wonderful and unusual idea!

There isn't one item on the list that won't be needed as soon as the young couple set up housekeeping.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: With Memorial Day approaching, here is a nice way to arrange flowers for decoration of graves:

Save a few large juice cans and with the sharp end of a bottle opener, make holes about one - fourth - inch apart, around the top of the cans.

Place flower stems in each hole. Set each can on a large square of aluminum foil, fold it up around the can, and secure it with a ribbon or bow, then fill the container with water.

You will have a lovely decoration and no more tying of stems to hold flowers in place.

DEAR HELOISE: Pinch off the top bud on your stalks of gladiolus buds before you put them in your vase of water, and EVERY bud will bloom, just the same as if left in the garden. You will get more enjoyment out of your glads this way.

FRED ALKIRE.

DEAR HELOISE: To prevent cakes from sticking to the cake plate.

DEAR HELOISE: After wrecking a teaspoon in the disposal, I cut off the top of an empty detergent bottle and kept it partially filled with water on the side of the sink. I put the dirty silverware in this until ready to wash it... but it wasn't too satisfactory because the knife handles were heavy and tipped the plastic container.

I solved the problem by covering a quart glass jar with adhesive - tacked paper to blend with my kitchen color scheme, put water in it and stand the silverware in it until dishwashing time.

Portage Family To Face Eviction In Land Dispute

CLEVELAND (AP—The U.S. Marshal's office here planned to send men to Portage County today to evict a family which doesn't want to give up its land at the price the government wants to pay.

The government has condemned the 319-acre farm which is in an area to be used for a flood control reservoir on the west branch of the Mahoning River.

The owners, Joseph Silvy, his brother, John, and a sister, Helen, say the government ordered the land condemend for public use in 1963 and deposited $50,000 in payment.

The brothers said it would be impossible to duplicate their dairy farm with its seven buildings for less than $150,000.

The family can go to court and ask a jury to set a fair value.

Boy, 5, Drowns

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—A 5-year-old Marietta boy, Robert Eugene Farley, drowned Thursday when he fell off a boat ramp into Duck Creek near here while playing with some other children.
